In the decade of the '90s, the ACC posted the second-best bowl record of any Division I-A conference for conferences with at least 20 appearances. The ACC was 24-21-1 in postseason play, a .533 winning percentage and second only to the SEC's 34-24 mark (.586).

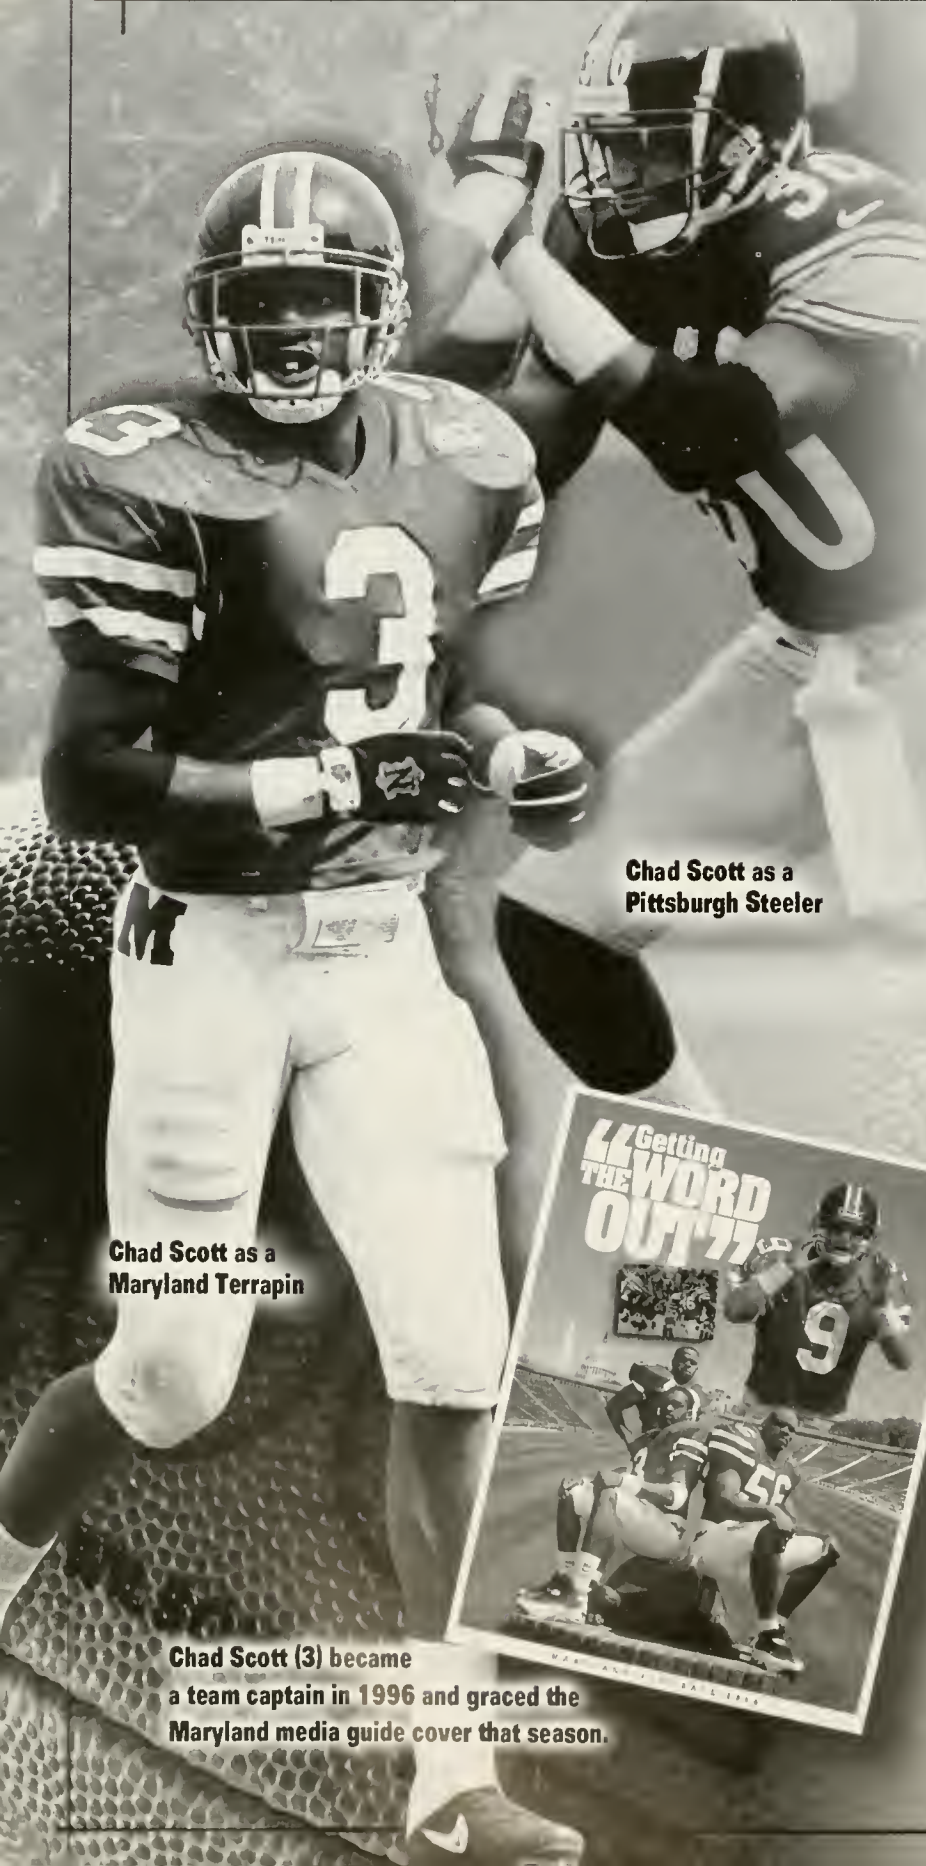
OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE



Chad Scott as a Pittsburgh Steeler

Chad Scott as a Maryland Terrapin

Chad Scott (3) became a team captain in 1996 and graced the Maryland media guide cover that season.

You, Too, Can Follow in the Footsteps of Former Terp Chad Scott.

Important to any college program are walk-on players, who not only make a difference in aiding a team's depth and continuity, but can also earn their own scholarship and bid for significant playing time.

Take the case of Chad Scott, for instance. After playing two seasons at Towson in 1993 and 1994, Scott chose to walk on at Maryland, uninvited. By the close of his first semester on campus, Scott was awarded a scholarship and he became a Terrapin co-captain for his senior year in 1996. The rest, as they say, is history. Scott was a first round pick in the 1997 NFL draft and now is chasing receivers and intercepting passes for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Chad Scott exemplifies the ultimate walk-on portfolio. However, every season at the University of Maryland, there are walk-on players who find their niche and contribute greatly to the Terrapin program. With recent scholarship reductions, walk-on players have become a vital component to the rebuilding of Maryland football fortunes.

Another example is Terp receiver Jermaine Arrington who walked on and was the Terps' leading wide receiver in 1998 and went on to sign an NFL free agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers following the 1999 season. Arrington played for the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL in the 2000 season.

The latest player to go from walk-on to scholarship player is defensive back Madieu Williams, a transfer from Towson who emerged as a bona fide contributor with his stellar performance this past spring.

Head Coach

RALPH FRIEDGEN

(Maryland, '69)
First Season

They say you can't go home again. For the University of Maryland, no choice made more sense than to make sure that Ralph Friedgen did return home.

Friedgen, the architect of Georgia Tech's high-powered offense for nine of the past 14 years and the offensive coordinator for Bobby Ross at Maryland when the Terps won three consecutive ACC titles in the mid-'80s, returns to his alma mater as head football coach.

This stop in College Park is Friedgen's fourth. The first was as a student and football player in the late '60s. The second came with his first coaching job when he served as a graduate assistant from 1969-72. His third stop at Maryland was as an offensive coordinator and offensive line coach under Ross from 1982-86. Now he is back, overlooking Byrd Stadium from the head coach's office.

Named the winner of the Frank Broyles Award as the top assistant coach in the country in 1999, Friedgen brings 32 years of coaching experience – including 21 as an offensive coordinator either in college or the NFL – with him in his return to College Park. From 1998-2000, he orchestrated a Georgia Tech offensive unit that averaged 36.7 points and 444 yards of total offense per game while posting a cumulative record of 27-8 (.771). The '99 Yellow Jackets, led by Heisman runner-up Joe Hamilton, finished No. 1 nationally in total offense (a school-record 509 yards per game) and ranked second nationally in scoring (40.7 points per game). Last season's Tech team ranked in the top 20 statistically in three major NCAA offensive categories, including scoring (33.8 ppg) and total offense (435.4 ypg).

The 54-year-old Friedgen (pronounced FREE-jun) owns the rare distinction of coordinating the offense for both a collegiate national champion and a Super Bowl team. A 1969 graduate of the University of Maryland, where he earned a degree in physical education, Friedgen launched his coaching career as a graduate assistant before heading off to a triumvirate of jobs including stints at The Citadel (1973-79), William & Mary (1980) and Murray State (1981). In '82, he returned to Maryland as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach under Ross, with Friedgen's tenure lasting until 1986. During that stretch, the Terps captured three consecutive ACC championships (1983-85) and played in four bowl games. All told, the Terrapins were 39-15-1 from 1982-86 and won two bowl games (the Sun Bowl in 1984 and the Cherry Bowl in 1985). It is the type of success Friedgen intends to re-instill in the current group of Terrapins.

"I think the football experience should be fun and what is fun to me is winning," said Friedgen. "Our goals will be to be a Top 20 team, year-in and year-out. I am looking forward to a lot of success here at Maryland."

During his five-year stay at Maryland under Ross, Friedgen was, along with quarterbacks coach Joe Krivak, instrumental in the development of future pro quarterbacks Boomer Esiason, Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh, all of whom spent at least 10 seasons in the National Football League. Esiason played professionally from 1984-97, Reich from 1985-98 and Gelbaugh from 1986-95. These players flourished under Friedgen largely because they strode to meet his expectations, the same as those he works to instill today

"I can show the players how to win and how to win is knowing how not to lose," said Friedgen. "If they put forth the effort and will work, they will win. There is a very fine line between winning and losing; it is a perception. If you look at the places where I have been – whether it is at Georgia Tech the first time when we were 2-9 and 3-8 and then end up winning the national championship, or go the San Diego Chargers and go 2-14 and then end going 11-5 and making the playoffs and going to the Super Bowl – you have to learn how to win and I think I know how to do that. It is going to be hard work, though. (Student-athletes) have to work hard, practice hard, and be disciplined. (They) are going to have to do things that are right, not only on the field but off the field as well."

The Ross-Friedgen connection began in 1973, when Ross hired the former Maryland offensive lineman as defensive line coach at The Citadel. Friedgen spent seven seasons at The Citadel, the last three as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Friedgen then worked one season (1980) as offensive coordinator at William & Mary and one season (1981) as assistant head coach at Murray State before Ross tapped him to be his offensive coordinator at Maryland in 1982.

Friedgen followed Ross to Georgia Tech in 1987, becoming the Yellow Jackets' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the next five seasons, including the 1990 campaign when Tech, unranked in the preseason, captured the national championship with an 11-0-1 record. The national title came just two years after the Jackets had posted back-to-back seasons of three wins or less. When Ross was named head coach of the San Diego Chargers in 1992, he tapped Friedgen to serve as running game coordinator for two seasons (1992-93) before elevating him to offensive coordinator in 1994, when the Chargers advanced to Super Bowl XXIX for the first time in franchise history. During his time with the Chargers, Friedgen helped a club that had not made the playoffs in a decade reach postseason play three times in five seasons.

Friedgen spent 20 seasons with Ross in coaching stops at The Citadel, Maryland, Georgia Tech and the San Diego Chargers.

Friedgen returned to Tech in 1997, where he served another successful stint as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach, this time under current head coach George O'Leary.

Known for developing balanced offensive attacks with multiple looks, Tech was one of only two teams in the country in 1999 to average at least 200 yards rushing and 200 yards passing. Tech also accomplished the feat under Friedgen's guidance in 1990, '91 and '98. The 1999 team, with the diminutive Hamilton calling the signals at quarterback, set 59 school records, rewriting many marks established by the 1990 national championship team, which was led by another Friedgen pupil, signal-caller Shawn Jones (1989-92). Friedgen was a finalist for the Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach in 1998 when the Rambling Wreck set a then-school record with 50 touchdowns.

Friedgen, who also earned his master's degree from the University of Maryland, is the first Maryland alum since Bob Ward (1967-68) to serve as the Terps' head football coach. Friedgen originally came to Maryland as a quarterback in the mid-'60s and spent most of his career as an offensive lineman, lettering in 1968 and capturing Academic All-ACC honors the same season. He was a two-time winner of the George C. Cook Memorial Award (1968-69) for having the highest academic average on the football team.

"Coach Friedgen is an experienced and consistently successful football coach who also has a passion for Maryland," said Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yaw. "He understands the ACC, embraces Maryland's philosophy of the student-athlete and has a clear and compelling vision for returning Maryland to national prominence."

Because of his obvious ties to Maryland as a university and a state, Friedgen has stated implicitly that he wants to keep the area's best players at home.

"I think that has to be the main focus of our recruiting," said Friedgen. "We have to get the better players from the state. Not every player is meant to come to the University of Maryland, but a large portion of them should. I know a lot of coaches in this area and they know me from the last time I was here, and a lot of the coaches are former Maryland players and I think it is time the Maryland community unites. We have a Terrapin now as the head coach. The alumni, the fans, the former players; we all have to become a strong force. Part of that is going to be recruiting in the state and I am going to rely on those former players to get the better prep players to stay in state."

Friedgen's coaching roots run deep. His father, Ralph, Sr., was a high school coach for more than 30 years and masterminded, among other teams, the 1964 Westchester County (N.Y.) High School team that went undefeated and averaged 44 points per game running what was then an unusual multiple offense. It was an offense run by a 190-pound quarterback later recruited by Maryland named Ralph Friedgen, Jr.

Friedgen and his wife, the former Gloria Spina, have three daughters: Kelley, 23; Kristina, 14, and Katharine, 12. Gloria is currently serving as an adjunct professor at the University of Maryland.

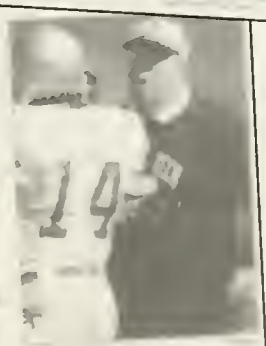
From Behind the Scenes To a Starring Role



WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT FRIEDGEN

"I am delighted. Maryland is getting a great football coach and a great man. Ralph Friedgen was one of the finest assistants a head coach could ask for. He's been deserving of this opportunity for a long time. He has a great football mind and a great understanding of the game on both sides of the ball. He is an outstanding recruiter who has been able to recruit anywhere. There is no element of what a head coach needs that Ralph Friedgen doesn't have. He'll be an outstanding head coach in the ACC."

–Bobby Ross
Former NFL and College Head Coach

"Ralph Friedgen is very much a total football coach. Ralph has a great feel for the game, defense as well as offense, and also a great feel for players. He commands respect, and they respond."

–George O'Leary
Georgia Tech Head Coach

"I think Ralph Friedgen is a great hire for Maryland. I could see this program going back to the days of Bobby Ross when the University of Maryland was thought of not just as a potential ACC champion – which they were three times under Ross – but a team that can get back into the national scope and have an impact. Being raised in the Baltimore area, I am real excited about what the Terrapins' future looks like now with Ralph Friedgen."

–Mel Kiper, Jr.
ESPN Football Analyst

"In my mind, Maryland football is back with the hiring of Ralph Friedgen as the new head coach. I am elated with his hiring. Ralph took great care of me as the offensive line coach when I played quarterback at Maryland. He comes with a wealth of knowledge, not only in the college and pro games, but also in the inner workings of the ACC and the University of Maryland, which will help propel this football program back to its lofty status of years past. Ralph will also have the full support of former Terrapin football players because we truly appreciate one of our own."

–Boomer Esiason
Former Maryland QB ('81-83), NFL Veteran ('84-97) and Football Analyst

"Coach Friedgen is a quality coach with a proven track record...Among offensive minds in the college or pro game, without a doubt, he is among the best. I think he is the perfect fit at Maryland because of his knowledge of the school, of the ACC and of the conference's recruiting area. From my personal experience with him, I can tell you that he is going to do what it takes to win and will not take no for an answer when it comes to making Maryland a winner."

–Frank Reich
Former Maryland QB ('83-84) Under Friedgen and NFL Veteran ('85-98)

"He's a mastermind. He understands everything the other team is trying to do. He knows what they might do and how they might change. Also, he constantly studies (his) team's tendencies and is prepared for all situations at all times."

–Joe Hamilton
Former Georgia Tech QB Under Friedgen and Heisman Trophy Runner-Up ('99)

"Ralph Friedgen was the guy behind the curtain during the Bobby Ross era at Maryland ... Friedgen, though hardly anybody knew it, coordinated those offenses that made Maryland a nationally competitive team in the early and mid-1980s. He put together one great offensive line after another and pulled together so much of what made Maryland able to dazzle (its opponents)."

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

CHARLIE TAAFFE

(Siena College, '73)
First Season

Charlie Taaffe is in his first season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the Maryland Terrapins. He was most recently with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League where he served as head coach in 1999 and 2000.

Under Taaffe's guidance, the Alouettes had a combined 25-14 record (back-to-back 12-6 regular seasons and a 1-2 playoff record) and most recently advanced to the 2000 Grey Cup finals. For his efforts in 1999 and 2000, Taaffe was named Intergold CFLPA Coach of the Year making him only the second Montreal coach to earn such distinction (Marv Levy being the first in 1974) and the first coach in league history to earn the honor in each of his first two years. He also earned the same distinction from the Canadian Football Writers Association. All together, Taaffe spent four years in Montreal as he served two years as the Alouettes' offensive coordinator before taking over as head coach.

While in Canada, Taaffe's offenses put up some lofty numbers. In 2000, the Alouettes broke the all-time league record for points in a regular season as they posted 594. Taaffe helped quarterback Anthony Calvillo to a 112.9 pass efficiency rating in 2000 after a 108.9 rating led the league. Former Boston College back Mike Pringle also excelled in Taaffe's system as he ran for 1,656 yards in '99, also leading the league.

Prior to his stint north of the border, Taaffe was the head coach at The Citadel from 1987-96. Taaffe took the Bulldogs to new heights in his 10 years with the Division I-AA school as he won more games than any coach in the history of the Military College. Prior to his tenure, The Citadel had not won a league game or road game in over two seasons. Under Taaffe, the Bulldogs won a Southern Conference championship, finished a regular season (1992) ranked No. 1 in the country and advanced to the Division I-AA playoffs three times. He was the 1992 recipient of the Eddie Robinson Award (which recognizes the top coach in Division I-AA), the Southern Conference Coach of the Year in 1990 and '88, and the Kodak Region II Coach of the Year in those same seasons. In addition, his teams beat six different Division I-A opponents (in 12 tries) including upsets of South Carolina (1990) and Arkansas (1992) and four of his teams were ranked in the final national I-AA poll (14th in 1988; 15th in 1990; 20th in 1991; 1st in 1992).

His 1992 team was arguably the best in The Citadel's history as it finished 11-1, was the top ranked team at the end of the regular season, and ultimately fell to the eventual champ (Youngstown State) in the quarterfinals. His overall record at The Citadel was 59-54-1, with six seasons of .500 or better.

In addition to his teams' on-field accomplishments, Taaffe's Bulldogs had a graduation rate of 89 percent over the course of his tenure.

Taaffe came to The Citadel after a successful stint as an offensive assistant at the U.S. Military Academy from 1981-86. In the three years Taaffe served as Army's offensive coordinator, the Cadets had a combined record of 23-13.

Taaffe's ties to the Atlantic Coast Conference are strong. Before his stint at The Citadel, Taaffe coached at three different ACC schools for a total of seven years. From 1976-80, he was an assistant at Virginia where he coached the offensive backfield, linebackers and special teams. His position with the Cavaliers came on the heels of graduate assistantships with NC State (1975, receivers) and Georgia Tech (1974, offensive backfield).

The 1973 season was Taaffe's first as a coach at the collegiate level as he was an offensive backfield coach at Albany (N.Y.) State College. The position came right after his graduation from Siena College in Siena, N.Y., where he was a quarterback for three years and earned a B.A. in education in 1973. He was inducted into Siena's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1990.

Born April 20, 1950, Taaffe is married to the former Jon Anderson, a former athletic trainer at Army. The couple has one son, Brian Patrick, who was born March 17, 1989.

Defensive Coordinator/Secondary

GARY BLACKNEY

(Connecticut, '67)
First Season

Gary Blackney is in his first season as the Terrapins' defensive coordinator and secondary coach. He most recently served as head coach at Bowling Green State University. He resigned his post following the final game of the 2000 season after 10 successful years with the program and an overall record of 60-50-2 (47-32-2, MAC). The BGSU job was his first as a head coach and his 60 wins as a Falcon rank third on the school's all-time list.

Blackney left Bowling Green as the only coach in school history to win a bowl game as he led the Falcons to victories in the 1991 California Raisin Bowl (28-21 over Fresno State) and the 1992 Las Vegas Bowl (35-34 over Nevada). With 11 wins in 1991 and 10 in 1992, he is the only coach in BGSU history to have back-to-back seasons of 10 wins or more. In doing so, he also became one of just three coaches ever to have been named Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year in consecutive seasons. Other honors at Bowling Green included being named a finalist for Football News' National Coach of the Year award in 1991 as well as two selections as AFCA Region 3 Coach of the Year (in '91 and '92).

The 1991 season was Blackney's first as a head coach and with 11 wins that year, he tied an NCAA record for most wins by a first-year head coach. In fact, his career at Bowling Green began with a MAC record 19 straight conference wins and a 22-game unbeaten streak in the first two years. But the accolades did not end on the playing field for Blackney. To date, he is the only coach from the MAC to have his recruiting classes receive the American Football Coaches Association Academic Achievement Award (70 percent or better graduation rate) each year of the award's existence. His first recruiting class (1991-92) finished with one of the top marks in the nation at 93 percent.

Prior to taking over at Bowling Green, Blackney served as an assistant coach for 21 years. After serving as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Connecticut, in 1968 and '69, he got his first full-time position in 1970 as a defensive backs coach at Brown. He then spent two seasons (1973-74) as offensive backs coach at Rhode Island. From there his stint serving big-time programs (and often alongside some big-time coaching names) began. From 1975-77, he was a defensive backs coach and ultimately defensive coordinator (1977) at Wisconsin. After three years with the Badgers, he moved to the West Coast and UCLA where he worked as a defensive backs coach under Terry Donahue. In 1980, Blackney came back east to Syracuse where he held the same post from 1980-83 under Dick MacPherson. His final coaching spot before Bowling Green was at Ohio State where he began his tenure in 1984 as a defensive backs coach under Earl Bruce and ended as an inside linebackers coach from 1988-90 under John Cooper. In between (1985-87), he was the Buckeyes' defensive coordinator.

Of all of his positions, however, none had the eventual name-power that could match that of his G.A. job at Connecticut. In Storrs, he worked with Rick Forzano, current South Carolina coach Lou Holtz, former Cleveland Browns head coach Sam Rutigliano, as well as eventual NFL assistants Dave Adolph and Don Sekanovich.

A 1967 graduate of UConn, Blackney is a native of Plainview, N.Y., and was born in Astoria, N.Y. He and his wife, Lauretta, have four children (Debbie, David, Kyle and Gary, Jr.) and three grandchildren (Kerie, Jamie and Abby).

TOM BRATTAN

(Delaware, '72)
First Season

Tom Brattan begins his first season in College Park as the Terps' offensive line coach. He comes to Maryland with 29 years of coaching experience, including 19 at the collegiate level. He served his last two years at Stanford University as the Cardinal's offensive line coach in charge of centers and guards.

Of the two years Brattan spent with the Cardinal, 1999 was the team's brightest. Stanford went 8-4 that season and had wins over Arizona, UCLA, Oregon State and Notre Dame on the way to a Rose Bowl bid. The '99 Stanford offense scored at least 31 points in all but three games and hit the 50-point plateau three times. It averaged 37.2 points and 467.1 yards per game, and Brattan's offensive line allowed a paltry 15 sacks despite 385 passing attempts (an average of one sack for every 27 attempts).

In 1983, Brattan took his first job at the collegiate level at William & Mary as an offensive backfield coach. After just one season, he was promoted to offensive coordinator and served the remainder of his tenure (1984-91) in that capacity. He also worked with the offensive line at William & Mary. While Brattan was there, the Tribe took their play to new heights, advancing to the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs three times. From 1986 to 1990, William & Mary earned national rankings in three seasons (No. 9 in 1986; No. 13 in 1989; No. 7 in 1990). The success was largely a product of Brattan's offensive design as his unit ranked in the top 20 in offense in 1985 and '86, while it had the top-rated attack in Division I-AA for the 1990 season and the sixth-best in '91.

Brattan took his success at the I-AA level to his next job, Northwestern, where he resided from 1992-98 as offensive line coach. In Brattan's first three years at the school, the Wildcats continued their struggle to regain their winning ways, pushing their streak of seasons without a winning mark to 23. Then in 1995, the Wildcats were in the national spotlight as they came seemingly out of nowhere to win the Big Ten championship for the first time in 47 years and advanced to the Rose Bowl where they ultimately fell to Southern California. They finished that season – despite the Rose Bowl loss – ranked seventh in the nation with a 10-2 record. Brattan's offensive line played a huge role in the team's success as it allowed just eight sacks all year while helping propel Darnell Autry to a new school rushing record. As a team, Northwestern finished fifth nationally that season in rushing.

The Wildcats went on to post a combined 15-1 conference record in 1995 and 1996, taking the Big Ten crown both years after having won just five league games in the three years previous. In '96, they earned a bid to play Tennessee in the Citrus Bowl.

Brattan got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Delaware, in 1972. After one year in Newark, he took his first full-time coaching post at Highland Springs (Va.) High School as an offensive line coach. After three years (1973-75) at Highland Springs, he moved back to his home state and took his first head coaching job at McKean High School in 1977. He spent one year at McKean before moving back to Virginia and taking over as the head coach at Lloyd C. Bird High School. After serving at Bird in 1978, he returned to Highland Springs – this time as a head coach – for his final four years (1979-82) at the prep level. That final stint was a successful one, as he led HSHS to three district championships in his four years.

A native of Newark, Del., Brattan is a 1972 graduate of his hometown University of Delaware where he earned his bachelor's degree in history and later earned his master's degree in education in 1977. He was a member of the Blue Hen football team and earned a varsity letter in 1971. He and his wife, Anne, have three children – Kristen, Kate and Megan.

JAMES FRANKLIN

(E. Stroudsburg, '95)
Second Season

James Franklin begins his second year at Maryland after joining the coaching staff in April 2000 following a one-year stint as wide receivers and tight ends coach at Idaho State University.

A 1995 graduate of East Stroudsburg, where he was a Harlan Hill nominee for Division II Player of the Year, Franklin also has served on the coaching staffs at Washington State, James Madison, East Stroudsburg and Kutztown. He also has coached for the Raskilde Kings in the European League, serving as offensive coordinator in 1996.

In 1999, he oversaw an Idaho State receiver corps that amassed 29 touchdowns, 258 receptions and more than 3,300 receiving yards. The Bengals, who posted one of their best offensive seasons in school history, finished ninth nationally in total offense, averaging better than 30 points per game.

Franklin, 29, joined the Idaho State staff prior to the 1999 season after serving one year as an assistant coach at Washington State University where he worked primarily with the tight ends. At Washington State, he also assisted in the "Cougar Give Back Program," where he worked with local schools and hospitals on player appearances.

Prior to his position at Washington State, he spent the 1997 season as the wide receivers coach at James Madison University. In the summer of 1998, he worked alongside Joel Collier and Kippy Brown of the Miami Dolphins as an assistant running backs coach in the National Football League's minority internship program. In 1996, he served as a graduate assistant at East Stroudsburg, working primarily with the secondary.

In the summer of 1999, Franklin worked with the Philadelphia Eagles coaching staff as part of the NFL's minority internship program.

During his career, he has recruited the Maryland-Virginia area, as well as New York, Pennsylvania, New England, the Midwest and California. He is currently responsible for recruiting in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Georgia, Florida and Maryland.

Franklin was a two-time Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference selection as a quarterback at East Stroudsburg, earning team MVP honors as a senior when he set seven school records, including single-season marks for total offense (3,128), passing yards (2,586) and TD passes (19). He was honored by Sports Illustrated as a national player of the week in October 1994.

He played one season of professional football in the European League, capturing league MVP honors in 1996 for the Danish national champions.

Franklin earned his master's degree in 1999 from Washington State.

Running Backs/Recruiting Coordinator
MIKE LOCKSLEY

(Towson, '92)
Fifth Season

Mike Locksley, who has played a key role in the major turnaround in Maryland's running game the past few years, is in his fifth season on the Maryland staff and his fourth as recruiting coordinator.

In 1999, the Terps completed a dramatic turnaround in the rushing department, leading the ACC in average yards per game (234.1) just two seasons after finishing ninth in the league in that category. Led by second team All-American LaMont Jordan, who finished fifth nationally in rushing yards per game, Maryland ranked 12th in the country in rushing in 1999. Three seasons ago, the Terps registered the nation's sixth-biggest jump in rushing yards per game by nearly doubling their output from the previous season.

Four years ago under Locksley's tutelage, Jordan broke most major Maryland freshman rushing standards on his way to finishing as a runner-up for ACC Rookie of the Year honors.

Locksley, who also serves as the Terps' recruiting coordinator, has been instrumental in coordinating improved signing classes by the Terps, including the 2000 class which was ranked among the nation's top 25 by one analyst and in helping maintain the strength of Ralph Friedgen's first recruiting class in 2001.

Born Christmas Day, 1969, in Washington, D.C., Locksley is a 1992 graduate of Towson University (business administration), where he was a three-year starter in the Tigers' backfield from 1988-91. Locksley, who started one year at cornerback and two at safety, was named his team's defensive MVP as a senior. He finished 19th on the school's all-time tackles list. Locksley also was a member of Towson's basketball team during the 1991-92 season.

Locksley began his coaching career overseeing special teams and defensive backs at his alma mater in 1992. He moved on to the United States Naval Academy Prep School (NAPS) in Newport, R.I., where he served as defensive coordinator, defensive line coach and head track & field coach.

In 1995, Locksley was named an assistant coach at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., where he oversaw the outside linebackers and special teams. He then returned to the East Coast the following year, accepting a position coaching the wide receivers and tight ends at Army. During his one-year stint at Army, the Cadets defeated rival Navy and appeared in the Independence Bowl. At Army, he helped develop tight end Ron Leshinski, who earned All-East honors.

Locksley, 31, and his wife, Kia, have three sons: Mike Jr., Meiko and Kai, and a daughter, Kori.

Special Teams Coordinator/Tight Ends

RAY RYCHLESKI

(Millersville, '79)
First Season

Ray Rychleski begins his first year as Maryland's special teams coordinator and tight ends coach. He comes to College Park with 22 years of coaching experience under his belt, including 20 at the collegiate level. He served the last eight years at Wake Forest University and his tenure can best be described as diverse.

For the last two years, Rychleski was the Demon Deacons' tight ends coach while also serving as the team's special teams coordinator. For the three years prior to becoming tight ends coach and special teams coordinator (1996-98), he worked with WFU's outside linebackers. During his first three seasons at Wake (1993-95), Rychleski coached the defensive line.

Among Rychleski's accomplishments at Wake were the grooming of defensive lineman Drew Baoe into an All-ACC selection, outside linebacker David Zadel who signed with the Dallas Cowboys in 1998 and interior lineman Jay Williams who went on to play for the St. Louis Rams.

Rychleski began his coaching career on the prep level in Pennsylvania in 1979 before heading to Temple University to take his first full-time collegiate position as a defensive backs and outside linebackers coach. He spent eight years at Temple (1981-88) before heading to Northeastern (1989-90) as a defensive coordinator/inside linebackers coach. After two years at Northeastern, Rychleski spent a year at Penn State (1991, offensive line) and one summer with the Toronto Argonauts (1992, defense) as a volunteer assistant.

In 1992, Rychleski was hired as defensive coordinator, special teams coordinator and defensive backs coach at East Stroudsburg University where he helped the Warriors to their best record in 13 years. After his brief stint in Stroudsburg, he left for Wake Forest in 1993.

A native of Old Forge, Pa., Rychleski earned his degree in social studies from Millersville (Pa.) University in 1979.

AL SEAMONSON

(Wisconsin, '82)
First Season

Al Seamonson begins his first season as outside linebackers coach for the Terrapins. He will also assist Ray Rychleski with the special teams.

Seamonson comes to Maryland with 18 years of collegiate coaching experience. He spent last season at Bowling Green State University – where he worked under current Terp defensive coordinator Gary Blackney – as the Falcons' special teams coordinator and linebackers coach.

In his lone year at Bowling Green, Seamonson helped the Falcons produce a defensive unit that ranked fourth in the MAC in rushing defense and total defense. Hired by Blackney, who at the time was the Falcons' head coach, he was responsible – in addition to his duties with special teams and linebackers – for recruiting Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and Florida.

Seamonson's coaching tenure prior to BGSU was weighted heavily in military settings. From 1987-99, he coached at The Citadel (The Military College of South Carolina), where he started as a wide receivers coach (1987) before serving the remainder of his tenure (1988-99) as special teams coordinator and linebackers coach. At The Citadel, Seamonson coached under current Terp offensive coordinator Charlie Taaffe and worked alongside defensive line coach Dave Sollazzo. He helped coach five linebackers to All-Southern Conference honors and one (J.J. Davis) to an appearance in the Senior Bowl. The highlight of his tenure was in 1992 when the Bulldogs led Division I-AA in scoring defense, yielding just 13.0 points per contest en route to a Southern Conference championship and advancing to the I-AA playoffs for the third time in five years.

The Citadel was not Seamonson's first taste of the military life, however, as he was a linebackers coach at the U.S. Military Academy (Army) in West Point, N.Y., for the 1985 and '86 seasons. In his first season at Army, the Cadets were one of the surprise teams in the country as they won the 1985 Peach Bowl, 31-29, over Illinois. It was one of just four times in the Academy's history that it had gone to a bowl game.

A 1982 graduate of Wisconsin and a two-year letterwinner for the Badgers at wide receiver, Seamonson got his start in coaching in Madison. In 1982 and '83, he served as a volunteer coach for Wisconsin's wide receivers. He then was a graduate assistant for the next two years where he worked for the Badgers' secondary unit.

Born September 7, 1959, in Stoughton, Wisc., Seamonson was an all-state receiver at Stoughton High School and was a captain for the All-State Shrine Team in 1977. He and his wife, Kristi, have three children: Kylen, Kalvin and Karter.

ROD SHARPLESS

(Maryland '75)
Seventh Season

Rod Sharpless returns to Maryland – for the third time – as linebackers coach under Ralph Friedgen. Sharpless is a graduate of the university and twice coached in College Park.

Most recently a member of the Rutgers football staff, Sharpless was an associate head coach from 1996-2000. In 1996 and '97, he was also the Scarlet Knights' defensive coordinator.

Sharpless came to Rutgers by way of Virginia Tech where he was a co-defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach for three years (1993-95). Under his guidance, the Hokie defensive unit was one of the best in the country in 1995. That season, the Tech defense ranked first nationally against the run, fifth in scoring defense and 10th in total defense. Virginia Tech also went to three bowls in his three years as a coach in Blacksburg, winning the 1996 Sugar Bowl and the 1993 Independence Bowl. In his career as a coach and a player, Sharpless has participated in 11 bowl games.

Prior to his successful tenure at Virginia Tech, Sharpless coached at Cornell (1992), Maryland (1990-91; 1977-80), Kentucky (1982-89) and Richmond (1981). Like Friedgen, his time with the Terrapins was marked with success as Maryland went to four bowls in his six years as a coach, including the Terps' last bowl appearance, the 1990 Independence Bowl.

Sharpless' success at Maryland is not limited to his time spent in College Park as a coach, however. As a player, Sharpless was a starting linebacker on the 1974 ACC championship team that went to the Liberty Bowl and on the '73 team that played in the Peach Bowl. In 1974, he had 67 tackles and tied for third on the team with four sacks.

Sharpless got his first taste in coaching in the prep ranks as he was a football and track coach at Willingboro (N.J.) High School from 1975-77. Notably, he worked with eventual Olympic medalist Carl Lewis while serving as a track coach at Willingboro.

A native of Jacksonville, N.C., Sharpless earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Maryland in 1975 and went on to earn his master's from Bowie (Md.) State in education in 1981. He served in the United States Air Force for three-and-a-half years (1969-72) before enrolling at Maryland.

He is married to the former Linda DiColo who, as it turns out, has quite a history in College Park herself. A former assistant coach on the 1991 NCAA runner-up Terrapin women's lacrosse team and the Maryland field hockey team, Linda also earned her master's from the university. The couple has a 10-year-old daughter, Victoria.

DAVE SOLLAZZO

(The Citadel, '77)
First Season

Like Ralph Friedgen, Dave Sollazzo is making a return to the University of Maryland. Sollazzo, most recently of Georgia Tech, was a defensive line coach for the Terps in 1986 and '87 as well as a graduate assistant in 1984. He is in his first year as Maryland's current defensive line coach.

Sollazzo was at Tech in 1999 and 2000 as a defensive tackles coach, but returns to College Park to again coach the entire defensive front. In his two years in Atlanta, Georgia Tech participated in a pair of bowl games – the Gator Bowl in 1999 and the Peach Bowl in 2000.

Prior to his appointment with the Yellow Jackets, Sollazzo was the defensive line coach at The Citadel from 1989-98. The Citadel was another homecoming for Sollazzo as he had lettered for the Bulldogs for three years on the defensive line from 1974-76. In that time, he started 33 consecutive games under former Maryland coach Bobby Ross. His position coach was Ralph Friedgen.

As a coach at The Citadel (where he was hired by Charlie Taaffe), Sollazzo coached Brad Keeney to All-America honors and Southern Conference-leading totals in sacks and tackles for loss in 1995. In addition, he coached nine other defensive linemen to all-conference honors while with the Bulldogs. The highlight of his coaching career in Charleston, however, may have been his involvement in helping The Citadel in 1992 to the Southern Conference championship and a No. 1 ranking at the end of the regular season. That '92 squad led the nation in scoring defense at 13 points per game and finished sixth in pass efficiency defense. In 1997, he was a part of an impressive defensive effort in which the Bulldogs finished their season by not allowing a touchdown in their final 13 quarters.

Along with his ties to Maryland and The Citadel, Sollazzo has an extensive history in prep coaching. With the exception of the Maryland job in 1984 (a season that saw the Terps win the ACC and earn a berth in the Sun Bowl), Sollazzo was a high school defensive coordinator in South Carolina from 1978-85.

Sollazzo was born in Harrison, N.Y., on December 24, 1955, and earned his degree from The Citadel in 1977. He is married to the former Ellen Beloin of Farmington, Conn.

Director of Football Operations

TOM DEAHN

(Heidelberg, '87)
Third Season

Tom Deahn is in his third year on the Maryland football staff and his second as director of football operations. He served as assistant recruiting coordinator during the 1999 season. His administrative responsibilities include daily management of the football program, including operations, team travel and schedule coordination.

Deahn came to Maryland following a five-year stint at St. Norbert College in DePere, Wisc., where he spent time as assistant head coach, recruiting coordinator, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks/wide receivers coach. He also served as travel coordinator and equipment manager for a 19-sport program. While at St. Norbert, he coached two offensive linemen to All-America honors and 15 players to all-conference honors.

During each of the team's last three seasons, Deahn's offenses at St. Norbert set school records for single-season all-purpose yards while ranking among national statistical leaders.

Prior to his arrival at St. Norbert, he spent three years at Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where his responsibilities included serving as recruiting coordinator and strength coordinator during his stay. Catholic's defense ranked second in the country in 1993. Two of his players received All-America recognition.

Deahn played collegiately at Heidelberg College in Ohio, where he was a member of two nationally ranked teams.

Deahn and his wife, Dawn, have a daughter, Amanda.

Strength & Conditioning Coach

DWIGHT GALT

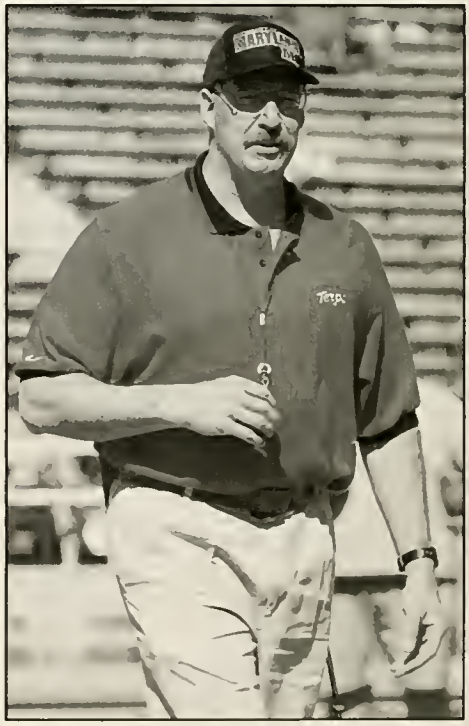
(Maryland, '81)
Eighth Season

Dwight Galt, a member of the Terps' strength staff since 1989, is in his eighth year as Maryland's head strength and conditioning coach. His responsibilities include managing the department's three training facilities and coordinating strength and conditioning programs for the Terps' 25 varsity sports, with special emphasis on football.

Galt, who earned his bachelor's degree in business management (1981) and his master's degree in exercise physiology (1989) from the University of Maryland, is certified by the International Sports Science Association. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the United States Powerlifting Federation.

During his time in College Park, he has worked with a number of teams that have advanced to national postseason play, including the 1984 ACC and Sun Bowl championship football team, the 1985 ACC and Cherry Bowl championship teams and the 1990 Independence Bowl team.

The 44-year-old Galt and his wife, Jan, have four children: Angie, Teri, Dwight IV and Tom.



Asst. Recruit Coor.

JOHN DONOVAN

(Johns Hopkins, '97)
First Season

John Donovan enters his first season with the Terrapins as assistant recruiting coordinator.

Donovan is a familiar face to coaches Ralph Friedgen and Dave Sollazzo as he served as a graduate assistant for the Georgia Tech offense from 1998-2000. While with the Yellow Jackets, one of his responsibilities was helping Friedgen with game plan and practice preparation.

Prior to his tenure in Atlanta, Donovan worked as an assistant secondary coach at Villanova, helping the Wildcats in 1997 to a 12-1 season and a No. 1 ranking in the season's final six weeks.

A 1997 graduate of Johns Hopkins and three-year starter for the Blue Jays' football team, Donovan was twice named an all-conference defensive back and a member of the 1993-94 basketball team that earned an NCAA Tournament berth. He later went on to earn his master's degree in economics while working at Georgia Tech.

Graduate Assistant

BRIAN FLINN

(Mount Union, '97)
First Season

In his first season as a graduate assistant with the Terps is Brian Flinn. Flinn will be working with the Terrapin offense. Among his duties are breaking down opponent film, working with the scout team and assisting with the offensive line.

Flinn comes to College Park from Villanova University where he worked with the Wildcats' tight ends in 2000. While at Villanova, he helped with the offensive line and in evaluating opponent game film. Flinn's first graduate assistantship was at Drake University where he worked with the wide receivers.

Flinn began his coaching career at his alma mater, Mount Union College, in 1998. That season he worked with wide receivers before moving on as an assistant with outside linebackers in '99. While at Mount Union, he was a jack-of-all-trades, serving as the team's academic supervisor, head equipment manager and assistant strength coach.

A wide receiver and all-conference tight end for the Raiders from 1993-96, Flinn earned bachelor's degrees in business and philosophy from the Ohio college.

Graduate Assistant

GREG SESNY

(Catholic, '99)
First Season

Greg Sesny is in his first season at Maryland as a graduate assistant. Sesny will work with the Terrapins' defense. Among his duties are breaking down opponent film, working with the scout team and assisting with the secondary.

Sesny is no stranger to the area after spending the last six years as either a player or a coach at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. He started at Catholic in 1995 and ultimately became a three-year starter at tight end/H-back for the Crusaders. In his three years as a starter, CUA went 28-4 and qualified for the NCAAs twice.

After graduating with a degree in electrical engineering in 1999, Sesny went on to serve as CUA's tight ends coach in 1999 and added receivers coach to his duties in 2000. He also worked as an assistant basketball coach for the Crusaders while teaching math and computer science at Bishop McNamara High School in Forestville, Md.

Dir. of Video Services

MITCH WILKENS

(Tennessee, '97)
First Season

Mitch Wilkens is in his first season working with the University of Maryland football program as director of video services. Wilkens will serve the Terps' football program from his newly renovated, state-of-the-art facility located in the Gossett Football Team House.

Wilkens and his staff videotape all Terrapin football practices, scrimmages and games and then employ the recently-purchased Pinnacle Sports Pro video equipment to edit and break down the footage to best serve the needs of coaches and players.

Wilkens came to Maryland by way of the University of Pittsburgh where he served the Panthers as a video coordinator during the 2000 season. Prior to his stint in Pittsburgh, Wilkens spent time as the video coordinator at UMass and Louisiana Tech. He got his start as an assistant at his alma mater, the University of Tennessee, in 1997.

Equipment Manager

RON OHRINGER

(Maryland, '85)
14th Season

Rob Ohringer is in his 14th year as the Terrapins' head equipment manager. Ohringer oversees the ordering, inventory, maintenance and distribution of all athletic equipment for the university's 25 intercollegiate sports programs. While managing the overall equipment operation for the entire department, Ohringer primarily serves as the football equipment manager on a day-to-day basis.

A native of nearby Bethesda, Md., Ohringer graduated from Maryland with a bachelor's degree in journalism and public relations in 1985. While a student in College Park, he served the football team as a manager and was the team's head student manager for his final three years.

Following graduation, Ohringer utilized his degree by serving as an assistant with both the Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League. He also worked with the Washington Commandos of the Arena Football League and the minor league Alexandria Baseball Dukes.

Ohringer was married on November 28, 1992 to the former Amy Brennan. The couple resides in Burtonsville, Md., and have two children: Casey Ryan (4) and Derek James, who was born this past June.

2001 SEASON PREVIEW

Excitement is in the air in College Park and soon, footballs will be joining it. The Ralph Friedgen era of Maryland football starts here.

Friedgen will take the field as the University of Maryland's 33rd head coach with a season-opening ACC showdown versus North Carolina on September 1st. The game will mark the official homecoming of sorts for Friedgen, the 1969 Maryland graduate who is in his third stint as a coach in College Park.

Most recently at Georgia Tech, Friedgen will bring a multiple offense known for its aerial attack to Byrd Stadium in hopes of leading the Terrapins to their first bowl appearance since 1990 and their first winning season since 1995.

Friedgen is joined by one of the most experienced staffs in college football, as offensive coordinator Charlie Taaffe and defensive coordinator Gary Blackney alone bring 59 years of coaching experience to the table and 22 between them as head coaches.

This year's Maryland squad returns eight offensive and eight defensive starters from last year's team that finished 5-6 and at one point seemingly controlled its own bowl destiny with a 5-4 record. It is a team with experience on both sides of the ball but needing some key roles to be filled, including the task of replacing the school's all-time leading rusher, LaMont Jordan.

The following is a position-by-position breakdown of the Terps as they head into the 2001 season:

OFFENSE

The Maryland offensive unit had some questions answered this off-season with Shaun Hill taking a rather commanding lead in the quarterback race and players like Bruce Perry and Marc Riley having success at tailback.

The Terrapins return eight starters from last year's squad and have some intriguing battles shaping up for the fall.

In Friedgen's estimation, the team still has a long way to go in terms of learning his offensive system, but he is encouraged by their progress in the spring.

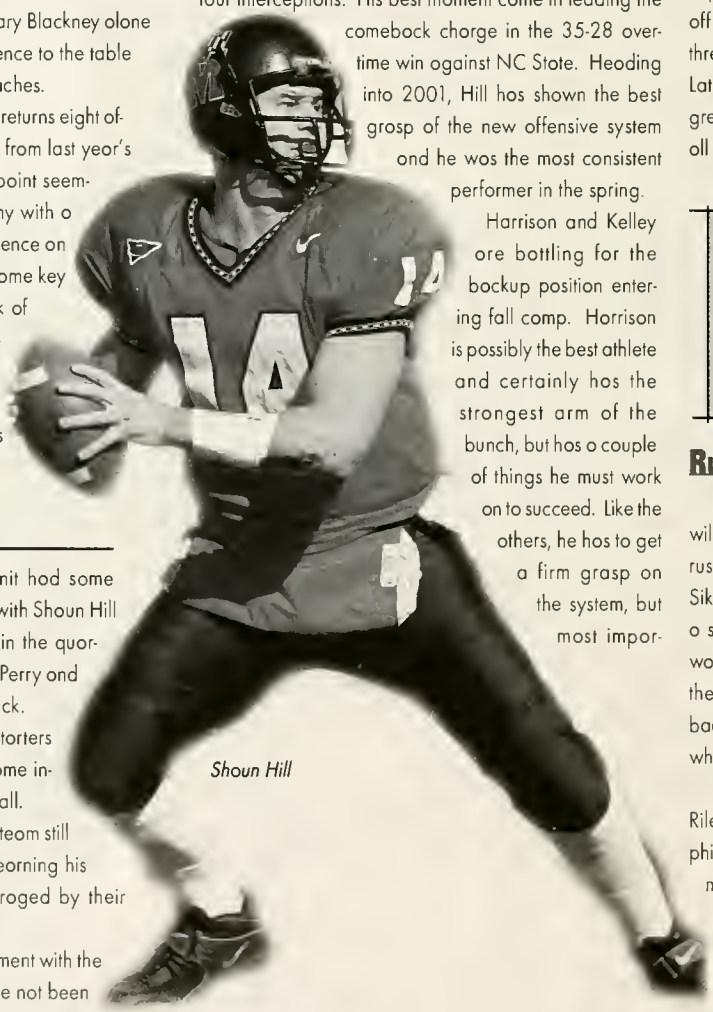
"It has really been an adjustment with the offense," said Friedgen. "They have not been accustomed to the in-depth throwing game that we try to install with multiple formations and personnel groups. I feel like we finished strong in the spring and got the sense that the more they get used to the system and the attention to detail, the better they will get. It was very similar to what we went through at Georgia Tech."

Quarterback

The Terrapins went into spring practice with a good deal of attention being paid to the quarterback position. Maryland had three players in senior Shaun Hill (Parsons, Kan.), sophomore Latrez Harrison (Atlanta, Ga.) and redshirt freshman Chris Kelley (Germantown, Md.) getting all of the snaps this spring. The extra repetitions seemed to help players like Harrison and Kelley improve, while Hill solidified his stronghold on the starting job.

Hill opened and closed the 2000 season as the starter but was injured from games two through nine. He is an intelligent quarterback with a solid arm, good accuracy and surprising mobility who has pleased the new staff with his work effort and leadership. Last season, he was 73-of-126 passing for 778 yards with six TDs and four interceptions. His best moment came in leading the comeback charge in the 35-28 overtime win against NC State. Heading into 2001, Hill has shown the best grasp of the new offensive system and he was the most consistent performer in the spring.

Harrison and Kelley are battling for the backup position entering fall camp. Harrison is possibly the best athlete and certainly has the strongest arm of the bunch, but has a couple of things he must work on to succeed. Like the others, he has to get a firm grasp on the system, but most important, coaches feel that he needs to work on his touch and learn to harness his throwing arm at times. He showed improvement in the spring in all areas, especially late in the spring session in his grasp of the offense.



Shaun Hill

Kelley redshirted a year ago after suffering a knee injury prior to his arrival at Maryland. He is, quite simply, a football player. Though he struggled somewhat in the spring game, Kelley's off-season could be labeled nothing less than a success. The 15 practices of this spring were his first as a collegian and he showed why he was so highly thought of as a prep. He ran well on the rehabilitated knee and showed an arm that was stronger and more accurate than was initially anticipated. Of the three quarterbacks, he is the one who – understandably – needs the most work learning the system.

In the fall, the Terrapin QBs will get a little more rest at practice with the additions of walk-on freshmen Brian Ramey (Upper Arlington, Ohio) and Shai Warsaw (Sandy Spring, Md.).

"Shaun Hill has gained confidence in the offense and I think he is going to do a good job with it, and his experience and his work this off-season is going to pay off for him," said Friedgen. "The fact that we only had three quarterbacks on the roster in the spring really helped Latrez (Harrison) and Chris (Kelley) because they got a greater number of repetitions. I think there is potential for all of our quarterbacks to have great success."

12 (d)	Shai Warsaw	QB	6-1	195	Fr.-HS

Running Back

The tailback spot is the other position that all eyes will be on this fall. Gone is Maryland's all-time leading rusher, LaMont Jordan, as well as his backup, Mukolo Sikyolo, Jr. Both players are in pro camps as Jordan was a second-round pick of the New York Jets and Sikyolo was a free agent signee of the San Diego Chargers. What their loss leaves is a great opportunity for a number of backs, some of whom were here in the spring and some who were not.

Among those battling for the job are senior Marc Riley (Coram, N.Y.), sophomore Bruce Perry (Philadelphia, Pa.), junior Chris Downs (Philadelphia, Pa.) and freshmen Jason Crawford (Forestville, Md.), Mario Merrills (Columbia, Md.) and Rich Parson (Newark, Del.).

The biggest of all the backs vying for playing time at tailback is Riley who enters fall camp with a narrow lead in the race to claim a starting role. At 6-3, 225, he can break tackles and he will be expected to see action at both tailback and fullback, depending on the formation the Terps are in. Perry is a quick back with very good acceleration who Friedgen thinks would excel in an option attack. At 5-9, 190, he is not real big but he is surprisingly strong and hits the hole hard. Downs (5-8, 189) is more similar in size to Perry and has impressed coaches with his work ethic.

The freshmen all bring different skills to the table, but all could challenge for playing time. Crawford is the type of big back with good running skills that Friedgen prefers, but like Merrills, he was not here for spring ball. Merrills is a back with game-breaking speed who could get in the game - if nothing else - as a receiver out of the backfield. Parson is the lone freshman of the three who was here in the spring. He is slight at 180 pounds, but is a smooth runner and has a burst once he finds an opening.

"I think we are in pretty good shape at tailback," said Friedgen. "Marc Riley runs hard and had a solid spring. Bruce (Perry) was more of an east-west runner at the start of spring but he really changed by the end of camp. I don't know if he just figured out what we were looking for or what, but he really has started running well. We have some young runners who were here in the spring in Downs and Parson who struggled learning the offense but have seen improvement. We expect Jason Crawford and Maria Merrills to challenge for playing time depending on how they pick up the system."

At fullback, James Lynch (Washington, D.C.) is the favorite to replace another talent in 36-game starter Matt Kalapinski, a free agent signee of the Miami Dolphins. Lynch has good size and was solid in the action he saw last year. He is a talented runner and blocker who caught a touchdown pass a year ago.

Vying for playing time with Lynch will be Chad Killian (Pittsburgh, Pa.) and Bernie Fiddler (Swedesboro, N.J.). Killian played in 11 games in his first two years, seeing action exclusively on special teams, but really came on in the spring as a runner and a blocker. He could be the best blocking back of the bunch and is one of the strongest players, pound-for-pound, on the team. Fiddler is an all-around player with good blocking, rushing and pass-catching skills.

"I feel good about the fullback position," said Friedgen. "Lynch is a multi-talented back and Killian really came on this spring, especially as a blocker. Fiddler has shown some skill as well. I feel very fortunate that we have three fullbacks who I feel are capable of competing this fall."

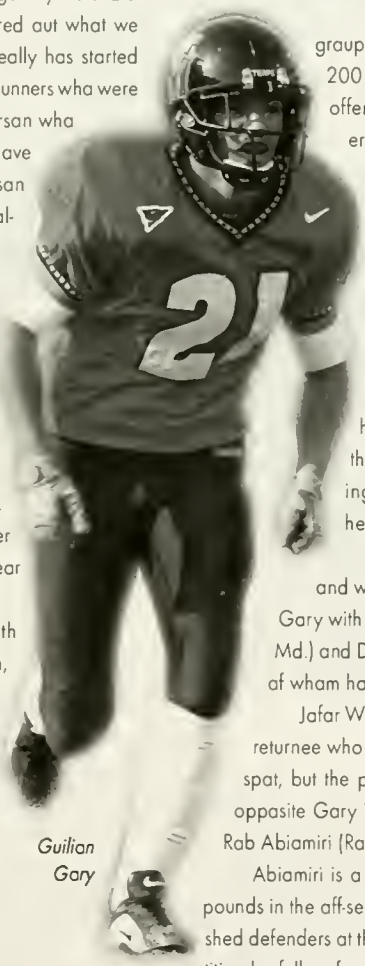
Wide Receiver



Guilian Gary

The Maryland wideouts form a group that will be counted on heavily in 2001 when it comes to the success of the offense. The Terps have returning starters Guilian Gary (Harseheads, N.Y.) and Scooter Monroe (Abington, Md.), but by and large the group is short on experience.

Gary was Maryland's leading receiver in 1999 and 2000. He showed good strength and an innate ability to come down with the ball. He has pretty good size at 6-0, and he can also return punts. As one of the lone seniors in this year's receiving corps, he will be counted on heavily.

Monroe had 14 catches last year and will compete for playing time behind Gary with freshman Steve Suter (Manchester, Md.) and Daryl Whitmer (Waldorf, Md.), both of whom had their moments in the spring.

Jafar Williams (Philadelphia, Pa.) is another returnee who will be in competition for a starting spot, but the player who emerged as the starter opposite Gary in the spring was redshirt freshman Rob Abiamiri (Randallstown, Md.).

Abiamiri is a coachable player who added 18 pounds in the off-season and has the size (6-3, 213) to shed defenders at the line. He will be joined in competition by fellow freshmen Maurice Shanks (Hampton, Va.) and Ike Roberts (Staten Island, N.Y.). Shanks (6-4), like Abiamiri, has excellent size while Roberts is one of the quickest players at the position.

All told, of the nine players listed on the depth chart, more than half are freshmen.

"We are very young at wide receiver," said Friedgen, "but I feel we come along nicely in the off-season. We just need to have them learn all of the intricacies of being a good wide receiver; understanding their splits and steps and that everything is timed out - that they can't just vary and be in gray areas. They have to be exact and have a precise pattern. I am pleased with the way it is going right now; they just have to continue working on it."

Tight End

At tight end, Maryland has a nice mix of youth and experience. In one player, Jeff Dugan (Allison Park, Pa.), the Terps have both. The sophomore started 10 games his freshman season and finished second on the team in receiving (25 rec./319 yds.). Despite his success catching the ball a year ago, Dugan's true strength is his blocking. Like some of the young receivers, he needs a little seasoning with his route running.

Dugan is one part of a triumvirate of players who will man the position, as seniors Matt Murphy (New Haven, Mich.) and Eric James (Washington, D.C.) will also see their share of playing time.

Friedgen has been impressed with the combination of athleticism, strength and speed that Murphy has shown. Now firmly entrenched at tight end, Murphy can work to utilize his size and speed while focusing on one position. In the past, he had been moved back and forth between offense and defense.

James is the third part of the "three-headed monster" and he will see more time at H-back than the other two. He lacks Dugan's blocking skills and Murphy's ability to get down the field, but he is an all-around talent who has good hands and runs well after the catch.

"We have three pretty solid tight ends, each with different strengths," said Friedgen. "Jeff Dugan is a real good blocker, I mean, he puts a defender away. And he has pretty good hands. Matt Murphy is a guy who is 6-5, 260-lbs., and runs a 4.7 (40-yard dash) and has good hands. He has the potential to be a heck of a player. And Eric James is big and runs well and he should play a big role for us as an H-back this year. As a group, there is a ton of potential here."

Offensive Line

The Terrapins enter 2001 in pretty good shape on the offensive front. Six players have significant playing experience and another, Matt Crawford (Maravia, N.Y.), started 20 games before going down to injury last year.

The centerpiece of the offensive line will again be center Melvin Fowler (Wheatly Heights, N.Y.). Entering his senior season, Fowler has now started in all 33 games of his collegiate career in the pivot. He is a leader off the field who excels on it with good quickness and the ability to check to the right blocking scheme. Fowler's backup will be Brandon Miller (Olney, Md.), a 6-2, 296-pound redshirt sophomore who saw action in two games a year ago. If need be, Kyle Schmitt (Latrobe, Pa.) can play at that spot as well.

Melvin Fowler

Lamar Bryant (Clinton, Md.) and Todd Wike (Lebanon, Pa.) top the pre-fall depth chart at guard. Wike is a feisty 21-game starter who did not miss a game last year while Bryant started six of the last seven games at right guard a year ago. Bryant is a very talented player who coaches believe has the talent to play at the next level if he can eliminate some of the mistakes that showed up on game film last year. Included in the mix at guard this year will be Ed Tyler (Franklinville, N.J.) and Reggie Kemp (Hyattsville, Md.) on the left side, while Schmitt is penciled in as the backup on the right. Bob Krantz, who started half of last year on the right side, has had his career cut short by a herniated disk in his back.

At tackle, the Terps are not long in the tooth but make up for in talent what they lack in experience. On the left side, Eric Dumas (Atlanta, Ga.) will likely protect the quarterback's blind side. The 300-pound sophomore missed some of spring after injuring his left foot, but he is an athletic talent who saw action in five games a year ago. Redshirt freshman Lou Lombardo (Baltimore, Md.) came on strong in the spring and worked with the first team after Dumas' injury and is another player the Terrapins will be counting on heavily down the road.

On the right side, Maryland is hoping that a healthy Crawford can return to form and challenge to regain his starting position after missing the spring but should he struggle, C.J. Brooks (Rex, Ga.) looks like the answer. Brooks opened eyes in the spring with his athleticism, improved size (6-5, 304) and technical prowess and worked his way to the top of the depth chart despite being only a redshirt freshman.

Chris Snader (Bishopville, Md.), the only player at tackle other than Crawford who is not an underclassman, returns for his senior year after playing in every game last year and will serve as a backup at both tackle spots.

"I think that our offensive line is going to be a real strength for us in the long run," said Friedgen. "We have so many good, young players, and if you have to be young at a position when you are first coming in as a head coach, I would want it to be (on the offensive line) because it always takes a while to develop offensive linemen. That is also what makes it so important to have an experienced player like Melvin Fowler because he can be a real leader. The thing I like about this group and what makes me really want to watch them develop is that they are all big kids who are athletic and they will only get better."

DEFENSE

The Terrapins are feast or famine this year when it comes to experience on defense. The linebacking corps is among the deepest and most talented units in the ACC with at least three starters returning while the defensive backfield will return three seniors and a sophomore who started every game last year.

The defensive line was a bit of a question mark heading into spring but showed marked improvement throughout under the tutelage of Dave Sollazzo, and the group will likely be infused with some youth come fall practice to add to the competition.

Overall, the defense should be solid and, like the offense, it should only get better as the season progresses and players become more familiar with the new system. "We have some experienced players returning on defense and I think that will be key to our success because at certain positions, we will likely have some younger players mixed in," said Friedgen. "The linebackers will be one of the strengths of the team and the other groups improved their understanding of the overall scheme as the spring progressed."

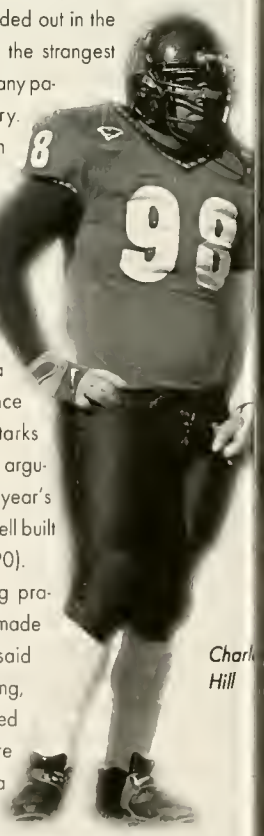
Defensive Line

The top defensive loss of last year came with the graduation of Kris Jenkins, the defensive tackle who parlayed a strong senior season into becoming a second round draft choice of the Carolina Panthers.

The Terps were relatively thin on the line with Jenkins still around; the task now is to find some new faces. The spring produced several changes on the defensive front and the fall will see the injection of more youth.

At the tackle spot vacated by Jenkins, C.J. Feldheim (Parkton, Md.) and Landon Jones (Marion, Ohio) will enter 2001 as one-two on the depth chart. For both players, defensive tackle is a new position as Feldheim was an end last year and Jones played on the nose. Both players are young and talented and lack only game experience. At nose tackle, Charles Hill (Palmer Park, Md.) is a returning starter and is coming off of a season that saw him notch three sacks and six TFLs. Hill will be counted on for leadership on the line and will be backed up by junior William Shimé (Ft. Washington, Md.) and sophomore Tosin Abari (Mt. Ranier, Md.).

At defensive end, Durrand Roundtree (Baltimore, Md.) came on strong in the spring to move ahead of Scott Smith (Philadelphia, Pa.) on the depth chart. Roundtree is a physical force who graded out in the weight room this spring as the strongest player (pound-for-pound at any position) in Maryland history. Smith returns after playing in five games as a frosh. In his limited action, he ended up with 12 tackles, 25 percent of which were sacks (3). The duo will be backed up by Kevin Eli (Deptford, N.J.) but a player who will get a chance is true freshman Randy Starks (Waldorf, Md.). Starks was arguably the prize recruit of this year's class. He is athletic and is well built for a young player (6-5, 290).



Charles Hill

"I thought as spring progressed, the defensive line made some significant strides," said Friedgen. "At the end of spring, they weren't getting knocked off the ball and they were playing to their ability. It is a hard-working group and in the fall there should be some added competition from players like Randy Starks who will compete for playing time."

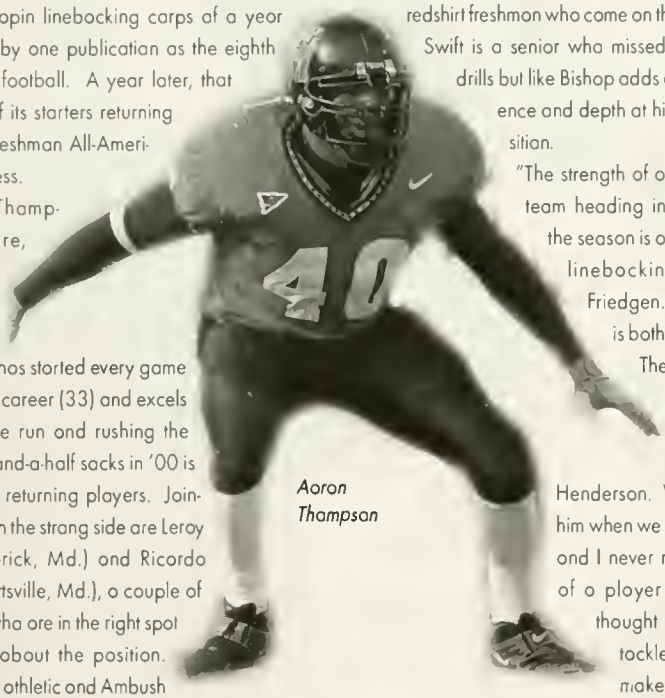
Linebacker

The Terrapin linebacking corps of a year ago was rated by one publication as the eighth best in college football. A year later, that group has all of its starters returning and added a freshman All-American in the process.

Aaron Thompson (Baltimore, Md.) is back for his senior season on the strong side. He has started every game of his collegiate career (33) and excels both against the run and rushing the passer. His six-and-a-half sacks in '00 is most among all returning players. Joining Thompson on the strong side are Leroy Ambush (Frederick, Md.) and Ricardo Dickerson (Hyattsville, Md.), a couple of young players who are in the right spot to learn more about the position. Both players are athletic and Ambush is expected to experience a full recovery from a wrist injury suffered the first week of spring practice.



Aaron Thompson

In the middle, the team's leading tackler returns in E.J. Henderson (Aberdeen, Md.). Henderson is an instinctive player with a non-stop motor who can make plays from sideline to sideline. The 109 tackles he racked up came despite the fact that he missed a game-and-a-half with an ankle injury. If he can perform like he did in the spring, he will draw attention for postseason honors. Behind Henderson at middle linebacker is Monté Graves (Annapolis, Md.), a senior who played in all 11 games a year ago. Kevin Bishop (St. Petersburg, Fla.) is another senior who has a good deal of experience (10 career starts), but he missed spring ball and will have to work his way up the depth chart. When healthy, Bishop is a playmaker and will add talented depth to the position.

At weakside linebacker, Marlon Maye-Moore (Brandywine, Md.) missed spring ball which created some competition at the position. Leon Joe (Clinton, Md.) is a compact, athletic player who enters fall as the number one, but the preseason will determine who opens the season as the starter. Kenneth Jerry (Melbourne, Fla.) and surprise performer Andrew Henley enter 2001 listed as his backups, but Reggie Lewis (Chicago, Ill.) – who did not participate in contact drills in spring - is champing at the bit while the possibility of Maye-Moore's return would add even more competition.

At the LEO position, Mike Wholey (Lexington, S.C.) returns after finishing third on the team in sacks and earning third team freshman All-American honors from The Sporting News. Also competing at the position are Jamahl Cochran (Morristown, N.J.), Jon Condo (Philipsburg, Pa.) and Ryan Swift (Hinsdale, Ill.). Cochran was moved from defensive end to better accommodate his size (6-0, 243) while Condo is a redshirt freshman who came on this spring. Swift is a senior who missed spring drills but like Bishop adds experience and depth at his position.

"The strength of our team heading into the season is our linebacking corps," said Friedgen. "It is a group that is both talented and deep. The guy who has really jumped out at me amongst the linebackers is E.J. Henderson. We played against him when we were here with Tech and I never realized how good of a player he really was. I thought he was a tackle-to-tackle guy but he really makes plays all over the field. I think he is a heck of a football player."

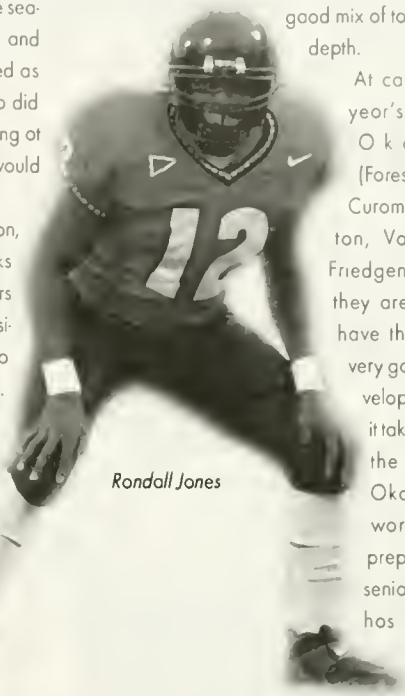
Defensive Back

Like linebacker, the defensive backfield has a good mix of talent, youth and depth.

At cornerback, last year's starters Tony Okanlawan (Forestville, Md.) and Curome Cox (Arlington, Va.) are back. Friedgen believes that they are players who have the talent to be very good but must develop the confidence it takes to succeed at the position. Okanlawan has worked hard in preparation for his senior year and Cox has shown leadership not usually seen out of a sophomore. The coaching staff put Cox in some high-pressure situations this spring, and he performed well, excelling in press coverage schemes.



Randall Jones

The primary backups at corner will be sophomore Dennard Wilson (Upper Marlboro, Md.) and true freshman Damonique Foxworth (Randallstown, Md.). Wilson is a supremely confident player whose mental approach transcends his skills. It is not out of the question that he challenge for a starting job. Foxworth graduated high school early and spent the spring with the Terps and has already impressed coaches with a work ethic not common among younger players.

"I think we have a pretty good group of cornerbacks," said Friedgen. "On one side, we have experience with Tony Okanlawan and on the other, we have a real strong, physical corner in Curome Cox. Another player, Dennard Wilson, is just a football player who will push to see the more playing time. We could use more depth, but overall, I am happy with what we've got."

At safety, Tony Jackson (Ellicott City, Md.) was an All-ACC performer at strong safety last year after having his first injury-free season. He was seemingly all over the place, running up 101 tackles while breaking up four passes. Jackson is joined by three-year letterwinner Rod Littles (Gainesville, Fla.) and Raymond Custis (Germantown, Md.) at strong safety. Littles is a physical player who has played in all 33 games of his three years at Maryland while Custis switched from cornerback to safety in the spring.

Former quarterback Randall Jones (Frederick, Md.) returns for his senior year at free safety. He and junior Tyrone Stewart (Washington, D.C.) are proven players at the position although Stewart missed spring due to injury. Redshirt freshman Curtis Williams (Huntington Station, N.Y.) moved to second on the depth chart in the spring due to the combination of Stewart's injury and flashes of playmaking ability in scrimmages. Williams still needs work learning the defense but his instinctive play suggests he may be a player to watch down the road.

"Safety is a position that we are in good shape at now; and we also have some guys who are battling for the future," said Friedgen. "We have good, experienced players in Tony Jackson, Randall Jones and Rod Littles, and then there is this next tier of players who will play big roles next year. Curtis Williams had a solid spring at free safety, and we really look forward to seeing transfer Madieu Williams – who has to redshirt this year – on the field. Overall, we are pretty deep at the position, with good talent."

SPECIALISTS

The Terrapins enter fall with same questions on special teams, most of which have to do with placekicking

Senior Vedad Siljkavic (Montenegro, Yugoslavia) and Nick Novak (Charlottesville, Va.) entered spring practice neck-and-neck for placekicking duties and that is how they will enter fall workouts. Siljkovic has game experience as a poach punter, but very little as a kicker. Both players had their moments in the spring, but neither made significant headway in the race to start.

"We will put the kickers in pressure situations in practice this fall," said Friedgen, "and whoever is able to perform best in those situations will win the job."

The other question mark in the kicking game comes at long snapper. The Terps are without Scott Rudolph, who graduated, and his replacement last year, Jimmy Cannally, who was an academic casualty this year. Three players will vie for the spot, with Jon Canda, Jofor Williams and Tony Jackson all entering fall as possibilities. The Terrapins will also give incoming players a look at the position.

The one position where there are no worries is at punter, where standout junior Brooks Barnard (Arnold, Md.) returns. Barnard finished fourth in Division I-A last season with a 44.7 yards per punt average, and coaches think he can be even better with improved technique. He has a strong leg and gets amazing hang time. Bornard will also serve as Maryland's holder along with wide receiver Steve Suter.

Guilion Gory will be the primary punt returner in 2001. He enters his final season fifth all-time in punt return yards (476) and is the only player in school history to lead the team in punt returns for three straight seasons. As he will at holder, Suter will also serve as the backup on punt returns.

THE ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

John Swofford, ACC Commissioner

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 49th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 82 national championships, including 40 in men's competition and 42 in women's. In addition, 120 men and 31 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1994 and 1999.

The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 373 first or second team gridiron All-Americas and 54 first-team academic All-Americas. ACC teams have had 1,485 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 109 first round selections. A year ago, the nine ACC member institutions had 186 former players on NFL rosters during the regular season or playoffs.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's second- winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 84-77-5 (.521) in post-season play. Since 1990, the ACC is one of only five conferences to have each of its schools play in a bowl game.

Georgia Tech and Florida State rank among the nation's winningest bowl teams. Among teams with 20-or-more bowl appearances, the Yellow Jackets are second with a 19-10 (.655) post-season record while the Seminoles are third at 17-10-2 (.621).

Over the past three years, ACC teams have posted a 17-14 mark against non-league AP-ranked opponents.

This past season the ACC had five consensus All-Americans and over the past four years has produced 22 consensus All-Americans. Since 1997, the ACC has had more first round draft picks (27) in the annual NFL draft than any other conference except the 12-team Southeastern Conference. The ACC also set two attendance marks during the 2000 season, drawing 2,653,816 fans over 54 home dates for a 49,145 per game mark.

2000-01 in Review

The 2000-01 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and three individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 39 national team titles over the last 11 years.

The ACC's 2000-01 national champions were North Carolina in women's soccer, Duke in men's basketball and Maryland in women's lacrosse. Overall, ACC teams posted a 73-56 (.566) mark in NCAA Tournament play.

The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 15 of the 25 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 2000-01 season include 98 teams competing at NCAA Championships, five bowl teams and 43 Top 10 showings.

The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 14th-straight year in 1999-2000 as 1,664 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

Terps In Final NCAA/ACC Rankings 122

2000 REVIEW NOTEBOOK

Terps Finish Season 5-6; Friedgen Named New Coach

The University of Maryland football team finished its 2000 season with a 5-6 overall record and a 3-4 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Following the season, it welcomed one of its own back into the fold as it announced the hiring of former Terrapin player and coach, Ralph Friedgen, as its head coach.

Friedgen was named the 33rd head coach in Maryland history on November 29 after the release of Ron Vanderlinden. Friedgen most recently served as offensive coordinator at Georgia Tech, but he has strong ties to the university as he played for the Terps in the mid-'60s and coached under Bobby Ross during the school's most recent ACC glory days from 1982-86.

For the 2000 season, the Terps matched their overall record from a year ago and improved on their conference record by one game, but were unable to become bowl eligible after working their way to a 5-4 record with two games remaining in the season.

Senior tailback LoMont Jordon (Forestville, Md.) completed his spectacular career at Maryland as the school's all-time leading rusher with 4,147 yards. He led the Terrapins in rushing and scoring in 2000 and worked his way up to third on the Atlantic Coast Conference career rushing chart. In addition, he finished his career as the school's all-time leader in all-purpose yards with 4,960.

Looking ahead, the Terrapins have a bright future in store as they return 17 starters from the 2000 club including eight players on offense and eight on a defense that got better as the season progressed in '00. In particular, Maryland's linebacking corps could be one of the best in the country as this past season's group of starters (Marlon Moye-Moore, E.J. Henderson, Aaron Thompson and Mike Whaley) combined for 366 tackles, 39 TFLs and 15.5 sacks, and all will return in 2001.

Jordan Caps Record-Breaking Career

LoMont Jordon's four-year career at the University of Maryland came to a close in the Terrapins' season finale versus Georgia Tech, but his name will resound throughout the school's record books for years to come.

Jordan finished his career with 4,147 yards rushing, the most in school history and the most by any back in the ACC in 20 years. That total also puts him in third on the all-time ACC list as he will go down trailing just Amos Brown of North Carolina (1977-80; 4,391 yards) and all-time leader Ted Brown (1975-78) of NC State who finished his career with 4,602 yards. He became the Terrapins' career leader in rushing in the West Virginia game on September 16.

The highlight of Jordan's career was his 1999 season as he ran for 1,632 yards, most ever by a Maryland player in a single season. In that season, he added school records for touchdowns (16) and yards in a game (306 vs. Virginia).

For his career, Jordan's name is plastered all over the Maryland record books. He leaves as the school's all-time leading rusher in terms of yards (4,147), attempts (807), 100-yard games (18), all-purpose yards (4,960) and all-purpose attempts (889).

In the conference, Jordan finishes third in rushing and seventh in all-purpose yards. He owns the third-best rushing day in conference history (306), the third-most single-season rushing yards (1999; 1,632), the fifth-most TDs scored in a season (1999; 17) and the 11th-most touchdowns scored in a career (37).

LaMont Jordan was a second round pick by the New York Jets in the 2001 NFL Draft.

Farewell to Seniors

A total of 18 Maryland seniors suited up in Terrapin gear for the last time with the close of the 2000 season.

The group includes many faces that will remain familiar to Maryland fans, including the school's all-time leading rusher (LaMont Jordan), one of its top defensive backs (Shawn Forte) and one of its best kickers (Brian Kopka). The following is a list of those seniors (* = letters earned):

Barnard Fourth in NCAA

Brooks Bornord (Arnold, Md.) finished his sophomore campaign ranked fourth in the NCAA Division I-A standings in punting. Barnard, who began the season with a school-record performance (53.8 yards on six attempts) vs. Temple, and continued to lead the nation after the WVU game, finished the 2000 season with a school-record average of 44.7 yards per punt. His mark – which bested Scott Milanovich's 43.8-yard average from 1993 – finished the season just under two yards behind the nation's leader, Preston Gruening of Minnesota (45.2).

– For his efforts in '00, Barnard was named an honorable mention All-ACC selection and honorable mention All-America by the Football News.

– For the season, Barnard had punts of 85 (a career long and three short of the UM record), 71, 67 (twice), 66, 63 and 61 yards. All told, he had a total of 13 punts that were 50 yards or more.

– In the season's final game (against Georgia Tech), Barnard punted five times for a 44.0-yard average. His long on the day was 58 yards and he placed one punt inside the 20.

– Against North Carolina, Barnard contributed in another way – with his arm. On 4th-and-5 in the second quarter, Barnard completed an 11-yard pass to Shawn Forte out of punt formation to keep a Maryland drive alive.

– Barnard, who walked on to the team in 1999, posted Maryland's best punting average (42.1 yards) since 1993 as just a freshman.

Defense Stands Up

It may come as a surprise when looking at the final national rankings, but the Maryland defense was one of the driving forces behind the 2000 squad's late-season success. It was a defense that held Duke, Wake Forest and North Carolina to a combined total of 29 points and made enough big plays down the stretch to hang on for the upset win over NC State.

– In the loss to North Carolina, Maryland held the Tar Heels without a touchdown until the fourth quarter. Going into the Georgia Tech game, the Terps had held their opponents out of the end zone in 12 of the previous 16 quarters of regulation football they had played, a feat that spanned four games.

– Maryland's defense had an innate ability to hold its opponent in check to start the second half in 2000. For the season, Terp opponents averaged 4.4 points in the third quarter and they were shut out in the frame six times by Maryland's defense. In addition, the defense got better in the quarter as the season progressed as it shut out its opponents in the period in five of the last seven games and did not allow a touchdown in the last four games of the season.

– The Terrapin defense held UNC to 10 first downs for the entire game and four through the first three quarters. The Tar Heels also were only able to convert two of 14 third downs for the game.

– Safety Shawn Forte had one of the highlight plays for the defense this year in the second quarter of the UNC game. After Tar Heel TB Willie Parker broke free and past the Maryland secondary, Forte came from nowhere to run down the UNC back. He then made the touchdown-saving tackle while stripping the ball that Marlon Moye-Moore eventually recovered.

– In the upset win over NC State, the Terps broke up six passes, a total that accounted for nearly one-third of Maryland's season total for PBU's (17) at that time.

– Maryland also held NC State to just 119 total yards in the second half after yielding 282 in the first half.

– In the win over Duke Oct. 28, Maryland held the Blue Devils to a field goal and a touchdown (on a gadget play). The Terps limited Duke to just 266 total yards, including just 13 rushing yards on 40 carries.

– Against Wake Forest Oct. 21, Maryland nearly registered its first shutout of the season before yielding a touchdown with 6:07 remaining in the game and the Terps in front 37-0.

Five Terps Play in Postseason

Five seniors from last year's Terrapin team participated in postseason all-star games in hopes of improving their chances of playing at the next level.

Tailback LaMont Jordan and defensive tackle Kris Jenkins played in the Senior Bowl January 20.

Maryland was also represented well in the Hula Bowl as FS Shawn Forte and FB Matt Kalapinski played in the game, also on January 20, in Maui.

Jenkins pulled double duty as he also played in the Blue-Gray Classic on Christmas Day, 2000, in Montgomery, Ala.

The final Terrapin who played in a postseason all-star game was kicker Brian Kapka. Kapka returned to his home state of Florida to play in the Rotary Gridiron Classic at the Citrus Bowl in Orlando, Florida, on January 13.

O-Line Experience

Maryland returned three starters from its offensive line which led the ACC in fewest sacks allowed in 1999 and four starters (including those three) will return next year from a group that finished second in the conference in fewest sacks allowed (21) in 2000.

Included in the mix are a trio of youngsters who have already combined for a substantial amount of starting experience: junior center Melvin Fowler (Wheatly Heights, N.Y.), sophomore left guard Todd Wike (Lebanon, Pa.) and sophomore right tackle Matt Crowford (Maravia, N.Y.). Wike and Crawford have combined to register 41 starts in their two-year collegiate careers, with Crowford earning second team Freshman All-America honors by The Sporting News in 1999. Although Crowford injured his knee toward the end of 2000 (he started the first nine games), he remains a force to be reckoned with for the future. Meanwhile, Wike was as dependable as they come in '00, starting all 11 games at guard for the Terps.

Fowler goes into the 2001 season having started every game (33) of his collegiate career, and is one of the top centers in the ACC. He earned an honorable mention All-ACC nod and was dubbed first team all-conference by Collegefootballnews.com. Add to the mix redshirt freshman Lamar Bryant (Clinton, Md.), who was a fixture at right guard down the stretch in 2000, and the Terps have a strong base of linemen to work with in 2001.

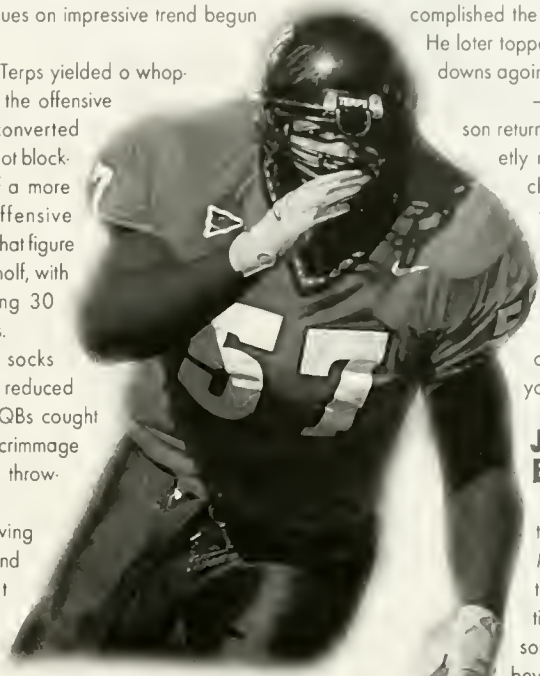
Pass Protection Impressive

Despite losing a pair of starters on the offensive line and a two-year starter at tight end, Maryland's offensive line allowed just 21 sacks (and only 20 of a QB) in the 2000 season. That number was second-best in the ACC and it continues an impressive trend begun four seasons ago.

In 1997, the Terps yielded a whopping 56 sacks as the offensive line was being converted from a run-and-shoot blocking unit to one of a more conventional offensive scheme. In 1998, that figure was nearly cut in half, with Maryland allowing 30 sacks in 11 games.

Last season, sacks were dramatically reduced again, with Terp QBs caught behind the line of scrimmage just 11 times in 251 throwing situations.

Prior to allowing a safety in the second quarter against Florida State, the Terps had run a string together of six straight quarters without allowing a sack.



Kris Jenkins was a second round pick by the Carolina Panthers in the 2001 NFL Draft.

Year	Sacks Allowed	Avg./Game	Pass Att./Sack
1997	56	5.1	5.0
1998	30	2.7	7.7
1999	11	1.0	22.8
2000	21*	1.9	16.8

one sack was an TB LaMont Jordan as he tried to pass on an option play against Florida State.*

Gary Terps' Go-To Receiver

Junior WR Guilian Gary (Horseheads, N.Y.) became the Terrapins' top receiving threat in 2000 and has become one of the better receivers in the Atlantic Coast Conference. With his three-touchdown performance in the season's final game, he also has put himself in the Terp record books.

– With his three TDs against Georgia Tech, Gary tied a school record for receiving touchdowns in a game, matching the mark set by Jermaine Lewis in 1993 and James Milling in 1986.

– Gary also added to his season total for touchdown receptions, leaving him with seven for the 2000 season. That mark ranks tied for fourth on the Terp single season list and is the most by a Maryland player in seven years.

– For the game, Gary had six receptions for 85 yards. With his scoring catches, Gary made it three-straight games that he had caught a scoring pass and five in that same time period (one against NC State, one against UNC; three against Georgia Tech).

– Through 11 games, Gary is eighth in the ACC in receptions per game (3.6) and 10th in the conference in receiving yards per game (51.6). Both totals are also team highs.

– Gary's two touchdowns against Middle Tennessee in week three marked the first time a Terrapin wideout had two TD receptions since Omar Cheeseboro accomplished the feat versus NC State in 1997. He later topped the feat with his three touchdowns against the Georgia Tech.

– After a near record-setting season returning punts in 1999, Gary is quietly making his way up the career charts for punt returns. His 312 yards a year ago were the fourth-highest figure in Terrapin history and his 35 returns matched the second-highest total. Going into 2001, Gary is within reach of Terp career records for both yards and returns.

Jenkins Finishes With Big Year

Senior defensive tackle Kris Jenkins (Ypsilanti, Mich.) spent much of his career trying to live up to the expectations set for him. In his final season as a Terp, he went above and beyond those expectations.

– Prior to 2000, Jenkins had single-season bests of 39 tackles, four TFLs and one sack. In fact, his career totals were 92 tackles, seven TFLs and one-and-a-half sacks.

In 2000, Jenkins destroyed his previous season bests and put up numbers that looked more like his career numbers as he led all Maryland defensive linemen and finished sixth on the team with 62 tackles. More impressively, he led the Terrapins for the season with 17 TFLs and eight sacks.

– Against Duke (10-28-00), Jenkins had 12 tackles (nine unassisted), four for loss and three sacks. All three totals were single-game career highs.

– At 6-5, 292 pounds, it was a given that Jenkins would be a force against the run. His ability to get in the opponents' backfield is what earned him second team All-ACC honors and the team's linemen of the year award.

– Jenkins' sack total tied him with Ernie Salley for 10th on the single season list as Salley also notched eight in 1975.

Thompson Has Strong Season

Junior Aaron Thompson completed the 2000 football season the same way that he had completed his previous two – as a starter in every game the Terrapins played and one of the team's top playmakers.

– After having a few performances that could be considered sub-standard for Thompson to start the season, the career 33-game starter picked up the pace and went on a big-play rampage. The Terps' defensive improvement seemed to caincide.

He finished the seoson fifth an the teom in tockles with 81, wos secand in socks with 6.5 and hod nine TFLs to go olong with it.

– Thompson hod o sack, o TFL ond a huge fumble recovery to go olong with five tockles ogoinst North Corolino.

– Agoinst NC State, Thompson hod a coreer-high 17 tockles, one TFL ond one forced fumble.

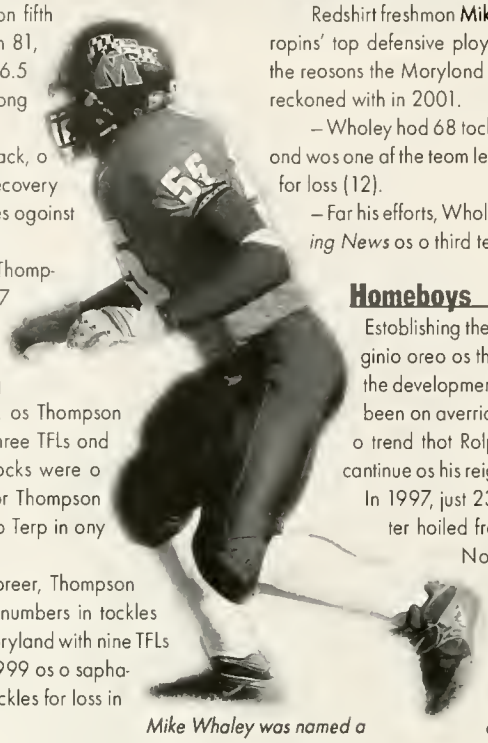
– The outstonding ploy begon ogainst Duke, os Thompson registered seven tockles, three TFLs ond three socks. The three socks were o single-game coreer-high for Thompson ond equoled the most by o Terp in ony gome this yeor.

– In his three-year coreer, Thompson hos omossed neor-record numbers in tockles for loss (35). He poced Moryland with nine TFLs as o freshman and 17 in 1999 os o saphomare – ond odded nine tockles for loss in 2000.

– His 17 TFLs in 1999 were the best ot Marylond since Charles Johnson posted 18 in 1978.

– His efforts include o coreer-high 15 stops in the 1999 opener vs. Temple ond dauble-figure efforts in eight af 11 gomes in 1999. Overall, he hos registered double-digit tockles in 11 of his lost 21 gomes.

– Thompson hos storted every gome of his mojor college coreer (33), ond is overoging 7.9 stops per game (259 tatol).



Mike Whaley was named a Sporting News third team Freshman All-American in 2000.

A Whale of a Freshman Effort

Redshirt freshmon Mike Whaley wos one of the Terropins' top defensive ploymakers in 2000 ond one of the reosons the Morylond defense will be o force to be reckoned with in 2001.

– Wholey hod 68 tockles in his freshmon compaign ond wos one of the teom leoders in socks (5) ond tockles for loss (12).

– Far his efforts, Wholey wos honored by The Sparting News os o third teom Freshmon All-Americo.

Homeboys

Estoblishing the Morylond-D.C.-Northern Virginio oreo os the primory recruiting bose for the development of the Terropin progrom hos been on averriding gool in recent yeors. It is o trend thot Rolph Friedgen hos insisted will cantinue os his reign as Terrapins coach begins.

In 1997, just 23 players on the Terrapin raster hoiled from either Morylond, D.C. or Northern Virginio, with six of thase serving as apening-gome storters.

Since thot time, however, numbers in both cotegories have doubled - 46 players from the region were on the 2000 roster, with 12 of those starting on opening day versus Temple.

Game 1

MARYLAND 17 TEMPLE 10

Sept. 9, 2000 • 6:00 p.m.

Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - LaMont Jordan was limited to 62 yards on 22 carries but scored two touchdowns as Maryland beat Temple, 17-10, before 46,950 – the Terrapins' largest home crowd since 1995.

Jordan, the NCAA's leading active rusher, scored on runs of 2 and 7 yards. But the senior tailback had tremendous difficulty penetrating a defense that one week earlier limited a prolific Navy rushing attack to 73 yards.

It was Jordan's lowest rushing performance since a 41-yard effort in the Terrapins' 1999 opener against Temple. He gained at least 100 yards in seven of 11 games in 1999.

Devin Scott completed 24-of-34 passes for 336 yards for Temple (1-1), but the Owls had 15 penalties for 99 yards and lost two second-half turnovers in falling to Maryland for the fourth time in as many seasons.

The Terrapins (1-0) went up 14-3 midway through the third quarter when Jordan capped a 74-yard drive with a 7-yard run. The score was set up by a 51-yard completion from Calvin McCall to Scooter Monroe.

Temple answered with an 83-yard march in which Scott went 3-for-3 for 57 yards and Tanardo Sharps scored on a 10-yard run.

But the Owls lost a fumble on their next possession and had a series of penalties ruin the next drive. Temple moved to the Maryland 32 with just over three minutes left before Shawn Forte intercepted a deflected pass, setting up a field goal by Brian Kopka with 2:21 left.

Shaun Hill, a junior college transfer, started at quarterback for Maryland instead of McCall, the incumbent. Hill played all but one series in the first half but did not return after halftime because of soreness in his shoulder.

Maryland controlled field possession the entire game due in part to a school-record punting performance by Brooks Barnard. Barnard's six punts averaged 53.8 yards, including an 85 yard punt that was three yards shy of Maryland's longest punt in history.

Game 2

WEST VIRGINIA 31 MARYLAND 17

Sept. 16, 2000 • Noon

Mountaineer Field • Morgantown, W.Va.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. - Backup Cooper Rego scored on two short runs and West Virginia turned back a potential go-ahead touchdown in the fourth quarter for a 30-17 victory over Maryland.

Maryland (1-1) nearly overcame a 17-point halftime deficit despite a subpar performance from Heisman Trophy candidate LaMont Jordan, who rushed for 38 yards on 18 carries. Still, he became Maryland's career rushing leader.

Leading 23-17, West Virginia's Richard Bryant let a punt go through his hands and Maryland's Moises Cruz recovered at the Mountaineers' nine, but the Terrapins were unable to take advantage. Quarterback Calvin McCall was stopped on fourth-and-goal from the 1 with 6:38 remaining.

West Virginia (2-0) then drove 99 yards over the next five minutes to put the game away. The drive was highlighted by a 39-yard pass from Brad Lewis to fullback Wes Ours.

Rego, who took over in the second half after starter Avon Cobourne left the game with a sprained ankle, capped the scoring on a 2-yard run with 1:41 remaining. Rego finished with 114 yards, while Cobourne had 97 yards on 12 carries in the first half.

Punter Jon Ohliger dropped a low snap and illegally kicked the ball while it was on the ground. Maryland freshman Leon Joe picked the ball up at his own 45 and ran untouched for an easy score to cut the deficit to 20-17 near the end of the third quarter. Ohliger also missed an extra point. Earlier, the Mountaineers ran into Maryland's punter to keep a drive alive and allowed two long kickoff returns, one of which set up a Terrapin field goal.

Jordan, who ran for 164 yards against West Virginia last year, needed only 29 yards to break Charlie Wysocki's school record of 3,317 yards from 1978-81. He finished the day with 3,327 yards and moved to 15th among Atlantic Coast Conference career rushing leaders.

Game 3

MARYLAND 45 MIDDLE TENN. ST. 27

Sept. 23, 2000 • 6:00 p.m.

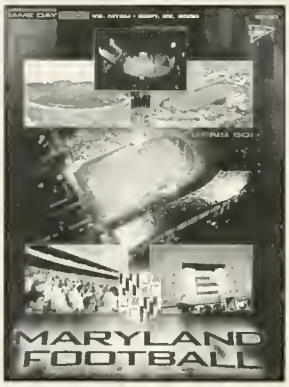
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Calvin McCall passed for a career-high 357 yards and two touchdowns and LaMont Jordan ran for three scores as Maryland pulled away to a 45-27 victory over Middle Tennessee.

The Terrapins (2-1) let a 17-0 lead dwindle to 24-21 before McCall and Jordan sparked a 21-point run that put Maryland comfortably ahead with 11:51 left.

McCall, a sophomore, enjoyed the first 300-yard passing game by a Maryland quarterback since Scott Milanovich in 1995. He also set personal marks in completions (21) and TD passes.

Jordan scored TDs from 6, 2 and 1 yards. He ran for 88 yards on 24 carries and had two catches for 69 yards in breaking the school career mark for all-purpose yardage, passing Jermaine Lewis (3,950).



The Blue Raiders made it 17-10 when Hicks reeled off a 70-yard touchdown run with 11:54 left in the third quarter.

Maryland answered in less than a minute. Jordan passed Lewis by rambling 54 yards with a short pass, and two plays later Mukala Sikyala ran in from the 8 for a 24-14 lead.

After Middle Tennessee cut the deficit to three, Maryland then put the game out of reach, using McCall's accurate passing to set up two touchdown runs by Jordan. McCall finished 21 for 30.

After using its first blocked punt since 1996 to get an early field goal, Maryland made it 10-0 early in the second quarter when McCall capped a 74-yard drive with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Guilian Gary.

Game 4

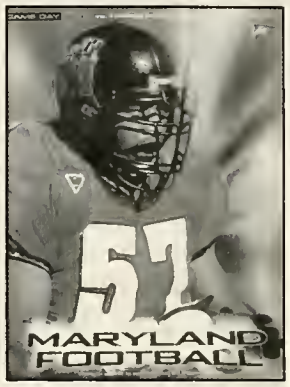
FLORIDA STATE 59 MARYLAND 7

Sept. 28, 2000 • 8:00 p.m.

Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - As the game reached its conclusion, Chris Weinke watched the action in a chair beyond the end zone, his left foot immobilized and elevated. The scene put a damper on an otherwise enjoyable night for No. 2 Florida State and its record-setting quarterback.

Weinke threw three touchdown passes before leaving early in the third quarter with an apparent sprained ankle, and the Seminoles cruised to a 59-7 victory over Maryland. William McCray scored on two short runs and Atrews Bell caught two TD passes for the Seminoles (5-0, 3-0 ACC), who built a 32-7 halftime lead en route to their 17th straight victory. Weinke left after his third touchdown pass made it 38-7.



Weinke went 11-for-15 for 234 yards. His final TD pass gave him 58 for his career, breaking Danny Kanell's school record.

It was 25-0 before Maryland (2-2, 0-1 ACC) got its initial first down, a 74-yard touchdown run by LaMont Jordan. Jordan finished with 114 yards rushing, his first 100-yard game of the season. It was Jordan's second 100-yard game against FSU in as many years and only the third by any back in the last five years. On this night, however, Florida State was simply too tough.

Florida State is 11-0 against Maryland, winning by an average of 34 points. The Seminoles have scored at least 48 points in eight of the last nine games between the teams.

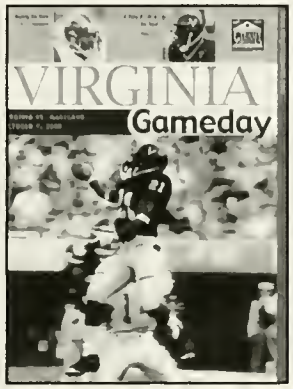
Game 5

VIRGINIA 31 MARYLAND 23

Oct. 7, 2000 • Noon

Scott Stadium • Charlottesville, Va.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - A strong first quarter from Dan Ellis and three first-half touchdowns by Tyree Foreman gave Virginia a 28-3 first-half lead, and the Cavaliers held on for dear life to beat Maryland 31-23.



Ellis was 6-for-6 for 148 yards and a touchdown in the first quarter as Virginia took a 21-0 lead. But an injury forced Ellis out of the game in the second quarter, and the Terrapins come back within a touchdown in the fourth quarter before Virginia's ground attack locked up the win.

Virginia (4-2, 3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) opened the game with a 13-play, 80-yard TD drive, capped by Tyree Foreman's 4-yard run. The drive continued thanks to a fourth-and-1 dive by Antwaine Womack on Maryland's 5-yard line.

The Cavs led 28-3 and appeared ready to put the game away early, driving into Maryland territory with less than two minutes left in the half, when the Terps' Shawn Forte picked off an Ellis pass and returned it 69 yards for a touchdown. Ellis pulled his hamstring while pursuing Forte and was replaced by freshman Bryson Spinner.

The Terps (2-3, 0-2) converted on a Virginia miscue when Tony Okanlawon picked off Spinner's first pass attempt of the game, a long bomb that gave Maryland the ball at its own 24. Five plays later, Matt Kalapinski took a screen pass 61 yards for a touchdown to make it 28-16 with 1:39 left in the third quarter. A two-point conversion attempt failed.

McCall answered by leading a 79-yard TD drive. On fourth-and-9, he hit Jason Hatala with an 18-yard TD pass to make it 31-24 with 5:44 remaining. Though the Terps had a chance late, Virginia turned to the ground game and Maryland didn't get the ball back the rest of the game.

CLEMSON 35 MARYLAND 14

Oct. 14, 2000 • 6:00 p.m.

Clemson Memorial Stadium • Clemson, S.C.

CLEMSON, S.C. - Tommy Bowden came to Clemson promising to bring a wide-open passing offense. But all five touchdowns in the No. 5 Tigers' (#4 ESPN/USA Today) 35-14 victory over Maryland came on the ground.

The Tigers (7-0, 5-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) wanted to blow Maryland (2-4, 0-3) away, but they had to settle for a sluggish victory, gaining 464 yards – its second lowest output of the year.

Woody Dantzler ran for two touchdowns and Alex Ardley tied a Clemson record with three interceptions.

Maryland keyed on stopping Dantzler on the run. So the Tigers gave the ball to Travis Zachery, who responded with a career-high 151 yards. But Dantzler, who was 10-for-19 for 186 yards, and ran for 87 yards, still got the ball on the big plays.

Dantzler converted third-and-one and fourth-and-one plays on a second-quarter drive and left Maryland defenders grabbing air on touchdown runs of 19 and 8 yards.

Turnovers and penalties stung Maryland. Calvin McCall was 8-for-21 for 179 yards, but Clemson scored after each of Ardley's interceptions.

LaMont Jordan ran for 71 yards for the Terrapins. The Tigers took advantage of good field possession in the first half. Clemson scored all three times it started drives on the Maryland side of the field.

For Maryland, Jason Hatala's 9-yard run on a reverse for a TD in the second quarter was the Terrapins' first touchdown at Clemson since 1991. Jordan later added a second score for the Terps.

MARYLAND 35 NC STATE 28 (2OT)

Nov. 4, 2000 • 3:30 p.m.

Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Backup QB Shaun Hill brought Maryland back from a 15-point halftime deficit and scored the deciding touchdown in the second overtime as Maryland shocked North Carolina State 35-28.

It was the third straight victory for the Terrapins (5-4, 3-3 ACC), who beat the 'Pack at home for the first time since 1990. It was the Wolfpack's (5-2, 2-3) third overtime game this season, and their first loss in OT.

Maryland got the ball first in the second overtime. After Hill ran 21 yards on a third-and-7 from the 22, he scored on a quarterback sneak. The Wolfpack then faced a 4th-and-14 from the 16, and after Philip Rivers' pass in the end zone fell incomplete, thousands of Maryland fans stormed the field to celebrate.

In the first overtime, Rivers threw a 22-yard pass to Karen Robinson to put NC State up 28-21, but LaMont Jordan scored on a 25-yard run on Maryland's first play to force a second session.

Down 21-6 at halftime, Maryland rallied behind Hill, who entered after starter Colvin McColl sprained an ankle late in the first half.

Hill, a junior college transfer, made it 21-14 by throwing a 5-yard touchdown pass to James Lynch and then running in the conversion early in the third quarter. He threw an interception inside the NCSU 5 on Maryland's next possession, but tied it by capping a 58-yard drive with a 20-yard TD pass to Guilian Gary with 10:59 left.

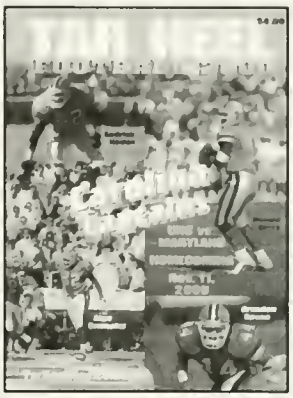
NO. CAROLINA 13 MARYLAND 10

Nov. 11, 2000 • Noon

Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. - Ronald Curry rescued North Carolina's stagnant offense with a 25-yard scoring run with 7:24 left as the Tar Heels beat Maryland 13-10.



The Tar Heels (5-5, 2-5 ACC) snapped Maryland's three-game ACC winning streak.

The Maryland defense again played well as North Carolina had just four first downs with 12 minutes left and no third-down conversion on 10 tries before Curry completed a 16-yard pass to Alge Crumpler to help set up his winning score. But on third-and-seven, Curry took off on a quarterback draw, broke a tackle at the 16, then dove into the end zone at the tail end of the run seven minutes after Maryland had taken its first lead.

In the game, Maryland's LaMont Jordan broke Charlie Wysocki's school record with his 18th 100-yard game, but failed to add to his 101-yard total on two tries when the Terps got the ball back late in the fourth quarter.

UNC led 6-3 early in the fourth quarter despite Maryland holding the ball for 18 more minutes. But Shaun Hill found Guilian Gary on a 7-yard pass in the right corner of the end zone on the second play of the quarter to give Maryland its first lead at 10-6.

The first half was filled with offensive futility by two teams fighting for a winning season and bowl hopes.

Maryland had the ball in North Carolina territory four times, but failed to score after turning it over on downs twice and missing a 50-yard field goal. The Terps drove the ball at one point from their own 8 to the UNC 2, holding the ball for 6:42, but a fourth-down keeper by QB Shaun Hill was questionably ruled inches short.

It appeared UNC would finally take advantage, but Parker was stripped from behind by a hustling Shawn Forte and fumbled at the tail end of his 61-yard run to turn the ball back over to Maryland. The Heels eventually forged ahead despite only four first downs and UM holding the ball for 12 1/2 more minutes.

GEORGIA TECH 35 MARYLAND 22

Nov. 18, 2000 • Noon

Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Georgia Tech made it painfully clear by halftime that Maryland's season would conclude without a happy ending.

George Godsey threw for 354 yards and two touchdowns as No. 20 (No. 22 ESPN/USA Today) Georgia Tech extended its winning streak to six and dashed the Terrapins' bowl hopes with a 35-22 victory.

Godsey scored his first career TD and Joe Burns added a pair of his own to help stake the Yellow Jackets to a 28-0 halftime lead. At that point, it was apparent that Maryland was destined to endure a sub-.500 season.

Godsey was 19-for-26 in his third straight 300-yard game, Kerry Watkins had five catches for 147 yards, and Burns carried 28 times for 109 yards.

The win enabled Georgia Tech (8-2, 6-2 Atlantic Coast Conference) to finish in a second-place tie with Clemson in the ACC. Maryland (5-6, 3-5 ACC) ended its season with the loss.

Shaun Hill threw three second-half touchdown passes to Guilian Gary, the last on the final play of the game, but the outcome was already sealed. The game was the last for senior tailback LaMont Jordan, the leading rusher in school history. As he walked off the field for the last time, Jordan used a towel to wipe the tears streaming down his face.

Godsey moved the Yellow Jackets 67 yards on their second possession for a 7-0 lead. The junior twice completed 29-yard passes, including one to Watkins on a third-and-19, before scoring on an impromptu 2-yard run.

For Maryland, Gary sandwiched touchdown catches of 32 and 11 yards around Godsey's second TD pass to Campbell, an 18-yarder with 14:38 left. Then as the game expired, the sophomore caught his third TD pass of the game, tying a Maryland single-game record.

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS

Game-by-game results for every Maryland football season since 1892. Maryland was known as Maryland Agricultural College from 1892-1915, and as Maryland State College from 1916-1919. Maryland's conference affiliations: Atlantic Coast Conference since 1953, Southern Conference from 1921-51 (SC standings not available from 1921-32) and South Atlantic Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1920.

Home games were played at Byrd Field or "Old" Byrd Stadium, across the street from the campus on Baltimore Ave., from 1923-1947 and again in 1949. Home games in 1948 were played at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D.C. Home games since 1950 have been played at Byrd Stadium on campus.

Home, road and neutral records are in parentheses (H, A, N). Maryland and opponent Associated Press rankings are in brackets. - AP polls began in 1936. From 1961-1967, the Associated Press ranked only the nation's top 10 teams.

ACC CO-CHAMPIONS

College Park is home to the nation's No. 1 football team. The Maryland grid team swept past its 10 regular season opponents with a perfect record and, in so doing, scored a total of 298 points while limiting its opposition to a record 31. Coach Jim Tatum was named the national coach of the year and many Old Line players were selected to various all-star teams. Operating out of the split T, Maryland ranked sixth in the nation in total offense with a 359.5-yard average. On defense, the team yielded only 193.2 yards per game and led the country in rushing (83.9) and scoring defense (3.1). During the '53 campaign, the Terps made up for two defeats handed them in 1952 by decisively beating Mississippi and Alabama. After the Terps downed Miami 30-0, Hurricanes coach Andy Gustafson summed up the nation's top team by saying, "Maryland has one of the greatest teams I've ever seen." Maryland began the season with a No. 9 preseason ranking by the Associated Press and took over the top spot in the polls on the final week of the regular season after the No. 2 Terps waxed the No. 11 Crimson Tide, 21-0. The top-ranked and undefeated Terps tied No. 18 Duke for the inaugural ACC title, but fell to 10-1 after losing the Orange Bowl to Oklahoma, 7-0.

Ranked #14

The Tatum system was clicking by the third season under the new coach. Maryland scored more points than in any previous season in its history - 266 to its opponents' 81. Jim Tatum and a collection of new players lifted Maryland to its first ranking in the AP poll. Newcomers such as Ed Modzelewski, Bob Ward, Bob Shemanski and junior All-America tackle Ray Krause were instrumental in leading the Terrapins to eight decisive regular season victories, losing only to No. 13 Michigan State, 14-7. The Terps plowed through the opposition, and after beating No. 15 Boston U. by a 14-13 count, earned the No. 15 poll position themselves. Maryland ended the regular season with a 13-0 shutout at Miami. The Terps earned their first bowl victory with a 20-7 rout of Missouri in the Gator Bowl.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CO-CHAMPIONS

Maryland completed its only undefeated season in history and clobbered top-ranked and heavily favored Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl to lay its own claim to a national crown. Led by All-American tackles Bob Ward and Roy Krause, brothers Ed and Dick Modzelewski, and QB Jack Scarbath, Maryland accepted a Sugar Bowl invitation against the recommendation of Southern Conference presidents who sought for all league institutions to boycott the bowls. The Terps were decided underdogs against No. 1 Tennessee, but Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski's 153 rushing yards and a 28-13 victory prompted Tennessee coach Bob Neyland to state, "We were soundly beaten by a superior team."

Ranked #13

The amazing win streak continued in 1952, but it ended abruptly and Maryland was kept out of a bowl game despite its No. 13 final ranking. The Terps had amassed 19 straight wins and 22 straight games without a defeat before falling 21-14 at Mississippi on Nov. 15. The end came in the eighth game of a schedule that was revised heavily after Southern Conference teams refused to play Maryland because the Terps had chosen to play in the previous season's Sugar Bowl. Ole Miss scored a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns to upend the Terps, and Maryland fell 27-7 to Alabama the following week to quell any hopes of a bowl bid. Bernie Faloney and Jack Scarbath both were All-Americans and Scarbath, a preseason favorite to win the Heisman Trophy, finished second in the balloting.

Chet Hanulak raced past the Boston U. defenders for a 15-yard TD on Nov. 1.

Entering the season ranked No. 3 in the nation, the Terps began the 1954 campaign in convincing style, shutting out Kentucky 24-0 in their season opener. But the Terps stumbled in their next game, losing a close 12-7 decision to fourth-ranked UCLA. That dropped Maryland to No. 13 in the polls heading into its ACC matchup vs. Wake Forest. A 13-13 tie with the Demon Deacons sent the Terps tumbling out of the national rankings for the first time since 1950. Maryland rebounded to shut out North Carolina 33-0 before dropping a 9-7 road decision to Miami. The Terps went on to win their final five games by a combined score of 200-33, including a 74-13 Thanksgiving Day shellacking of Missouri. Maryland finished the season with a No. 8 national ranking.

For the second time in the ACC's first three years, Maryland and Duke tied for the league title with identical 4-0 records. The Terps finished third in both polls while the Blue Devils earned a 16th listing in the UPI poll. The ACC posted a 22-18-1 mark against non-conference opponents. Maryland led the nation in defense against the rush, allowing 83.9 yards per game. Maryland had a 15-game win streak snapped with a 20-6 loss to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Jerry Claiborne's second season as Maryland coach lifted the Terps to a 5-1 mark in the ACC, and their first national ranking in 12 seasons. The Terps were 5-3 after a 42-22 loss to No. 6 Penn State, but three decisive wins over Virginia, Clemson and Tulane earned Maryland a bid to its first bowl game since the 1956 Orange Bowl. Maryland dominated Georgia in the Peach Bowl, outgaining the Bulldogs 461 to 284 on offense and driving inside the Georgia 20-yard line seven times. Four turnovers proved costly, however, and after a 10-10 tie at intermission, all Maryland could muster were a pair of fourth-quarter field goals by Steve Mike-Mayer. Defensive tackle Randy White earned the first of his two All-America awards.

Maryland steadily rose in the polls, and after a 27-0 shutout of Duke, was No. 5 heading into a showdown at No. 2 Penn State. The Nittany Lions won a 27-3 decision in front of 78,019 which dropped Maryland to No. 13 in the polls, but after a 17-7 win at Virginia the Terps were paired with Clemson for an ACC first-place showdown. No. 11 Maryland and No. 12 Clemson entered the regular season finale both tied at 5-0. Clemson emerged from the Byrd Stadium shootout a 28-24 victor. The loss sent Maryland into a disappointing Sun Bowl matchup with Texas where it suffered its worst bowl loss ever, 42-0.

Junior quarterback Boomer Esiason led the Terrapins and first-year head coach Bobby Ross to a seven-game midseason win streak which earned Maryland its first national ranking in two seasons. After early season losses at No. 7 Penn State and No. 17 West Virginia, Maryland scored points at will while rolling through its ACC schedule. The Terrapins' 31-point average was second only to its undefeated season of 1951, and Ross was named the national coach of the year by the Washington Touchdown Club. A 31-24 win at No. 10 North Carolina put Maryland back in the rankings, and another shootout with Clemson would determine the ACC champion. No. 16 Maryland was invited to the inaugural Aloha Bowl in Honolulu where it surrendered a last-second touchdown to No. 9 Washington, losing 21-20.

In front of the first capacity crowd in Gator Bowl history, 16,666, Maryland's Lu Gambino was a one-man wrecking crew, rushing for 165 yards and scoring three touchdowns. Gambino's three scores propelled Maryland to a 20-7 lead, but Georgia reeled off 13 points in the fourth quarter to tie the game. The Bulldogs threatened to win the game in the closing seconds, but time ran out with Georgia on Maryland's four-yard line. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer. Gambino was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1992.

Tennessee scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to overcame a 20-16 deficit and defeat the Terps, 30-23, in the 1983 Citrus Bowl. Maryland took a four-point lead into the fourth quarter, thanks to outstanding play from reserve quarterback Frank Reich. Reich entered the game in the second quarter when starter Boomer Esiason suffered a shoulder injury. Reich's one mistake of the day, an interception early in the fourth quarter, set the Vols on Maryland's 14-yard line which led to a Tennessee touchdown run that was the difference.

TERPS IN THE HALL OF FAME

Dick MODZELEWSKI

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1993)

Through three All-America years at Maryland and 14 All-Pro years in the National Football League, Dick Modzelewski was always "Little Mo." At 6-0, 235 pounds during his playing days at Maryland, he was one of the bigger collegiate linemen during the early 1950s. He was the second Mo at Maryland, following his older brother Ed, "Big Mo."

Dick Modzelewski played three years as defensive tackle for the Terps on the great teams which were 24-4-1. He became Maryland's first winner of a major national honor when he received the Outland Trophy as the nation's top lineman in 1952. Through his career at Maryland, the Terps fashioned a 22-game unbeaten streak.

At the end of his senior season, Modzelewski was named to every All-America team and was awarded the Outland Trophy. He was a second-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins. He spent 14 seasons in the NFL, with the Redskins, the Pittsburgh Steelers, the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns. Modzelewski was an All-Pro and on NFL championship teams with both the Giants (1956) and the Brawns (1964).

Dick Modzelewski was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1993.

Randy WHITE

Pro Football Hall of Fame (1994)

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1994)

Randy White changed the look of football's defensive lines. At Maryland, and later in an All-Pro National Football League career with the Dallas Cowboys, he was regarded as the quickest defensive lineman to play the game. He could be in an opponent's backfield before a quarterback could make a hand-off.

In 1974, Randy White cleaned up the college football awards plate. He was honored with the Outland and Lombardi trophies as the top collegiate lineman, was ACC Player of the Year, was an unanimous first-team All-America choice, named the Delaware (his home state) Athlete of the Year and named the Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

A first round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys, White was an All-Pro performer throughout his career and shared Super Bowl MVP honors with Dallas teammate Harvey Martin when the Cowboys defeated Denver in Super Bowl XII.

White's No. 94 number has been retired at Maryland. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994.

Bob PELLEGRINI

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1996)

Bob Pellegrini was recruited to Maryland as a quarterback, but made his name as one of college football's best linemen. In his first season, Pellegrini was a 6-2, 215-pound sophomore guard for the 1953 national champion Terrapins. He would play guard again in 1954 in an era when players went both ways, before being switched to center for his senior year to fill a Terrapin void.

As a senior, Pellegrini led Maryland to its second 10-0 regular season and ACC championship in three years as the Terps defeated defending national champion UCLA. He was selected ACC Player of the Year, named consensus All-America and pictured as Herman Hickman's cover boy for Lineman of the Year in 1955.

Pellegrini led the Terps to a 27-4-1 record over his career, with rankings in the Top 10 each season. He was the first pick in the National Football League draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. Pellegrini became one of the building blocks of an Eagle turnaround that took the team to the top of the football world. A losing team when he joined, the Eagles defeated Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers for the World Championship four years later with Bob Pellegrini at linebacker.

Bob Pellegrini was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December 1996.

Jerry CLAIBORNE

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1999)

Former Maryland football coach Jerry Claiborne was selected to join 12 legendary college football players and two other coaches among the 1999 class of inductees into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame.

Claiborne coached 28 seasons overall between stints at Virginia Tech (1961-70), Maryland (1972-81) and Kentucky (1982-89), and compiled a 179-122-8 record in the process. He is currently 28th on the all-time Division I-A coaching victories list.

At Maryland, Claiborne was named The Sporting News National Coach of the Year in 1974 after winning the Atlantic Coast Conference and finishing the season ranked No. 13 by the Associated Press. He was the District III Coach of the Year in 1973, 1975 and 1976.

In all, Claiborne was the coach of the year in three different conferences – Southern (1963), ACC (1973, '75, '76) and Southeastern (1983) – while leading his teams to 11 bowl games. Throughout his coaching career, he was a strong advocate of the right combination of academics and athletics. In his years as head coach, he had four players named Academic All-America and 87 players earn academic all-conference honors. On the field, he coached 13 All-Americans and 53 who earned all-conference status.

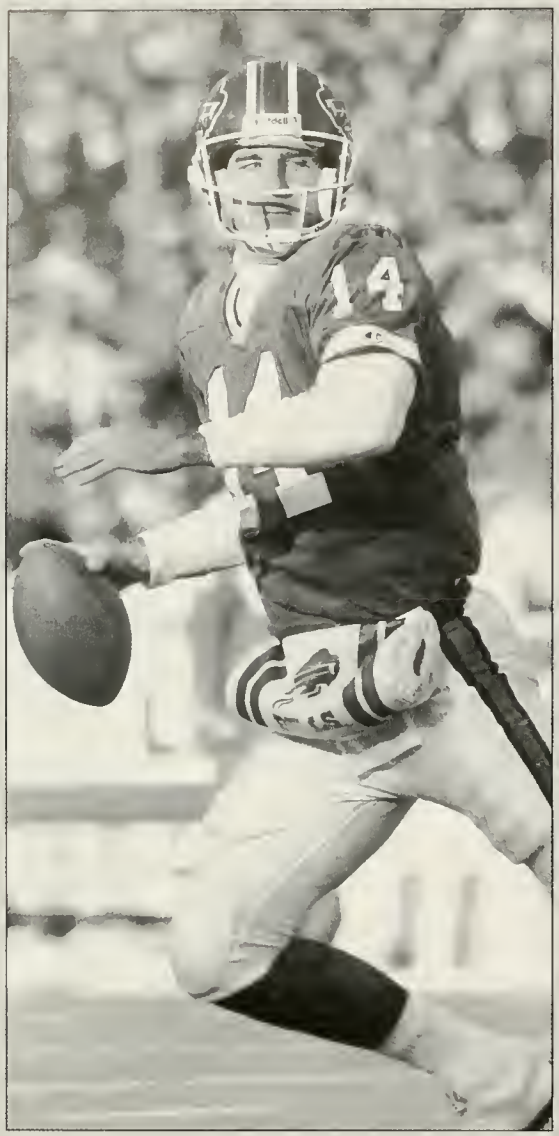
FRANK REICH: THE KING OF COMEBACKS



Reich led the Bills back from a 35-3 third-quarter deficit.

When it comes to engineering record-setting comebock victories, no one hos done it better thon Moryland's Frank Reich, who was at the controls for the greatest comebocks in NCAA ond NFL history. .

Reich's first encounter with greotness accurred as a senior in 1984, when he came off the bench to lead the Terps to whot then ronked as the biggest comebock in NCAA history. Down 31-0 ot halftime to the defending notionol champion Miami Hurricones, heod coach Babby Rass inserted Reich into the lineup in place of Ston Gelbough, and Reich proceeded to complete 12 of 16 passes for 260 yords ond three touchdowns in propelling the Terps to o 42-40 victory in the Oronge Bowl.

Eight yeors later, on Jon. 3, 1993, Reich met destiny ogoin os he led the Buffalo Bills to the greatest comeback in pro football annals. As in the Miami game in 1984, Reich come off the bench and performed his heroics ogoinst o top-notch opponent. This time the foe was the Houston Oilers, who appeared on their way to an easy ployoff win by building o 35-3 lead eorly in the second holf.

Reich, however, wosn't deterred. Filling in for the injured Jim Kelly, he demonstrated grace under fire by throwing for o career-high 289 yords ond four touchdowns os the Bills went on to win 41-38 in overtime.

Reich led Maryland to victory after trailing 31-0 at the half.

LEADING THE WAY INTO THE 21ST CENTURY

- A Carnegie Research-I University
- Member, Assoc. of American Universities (AAU)
- Flagship of the University System of Maryland
- NCAA Division I Athletics

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty, fellow students or friends at other universities.

MARYLAND'S COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS

College of Agriculture and Natural Resources

The College of Agriculture and Natural Resources offers a variety of academic programs that apply science, management, design and engineering to improve the world in which we live and work. MARYLAND: NO BETTER PLACE TO BE

Did You Know?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 60 programs ranked among the nation's elite.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university 12th in graduating black males with baccalaureate degrees in all disciplines. (Maryland is second among non-historically black schools.) Maryland is 23rd in black male undergraduate enrollment figures among all schools.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 13 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 4 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report-business and engineering-both the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 21) and A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25. In business, the management information systems specialty was No. 7; entrepreneurship No. 12; general management specialty No. 21; e-commerce No. 8; human resources specialty No. 10. In engineering, the aerospace/aeronautical/astronautical specialty was No. 11.

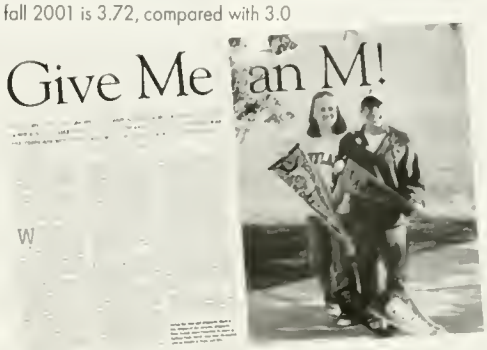
An economic impact study conducted by the economists with the Jacob France Center, an applied economics analysis center at the University of Baltimore, concluded that the University of Maryland generates $5.93 of economic activity for every dollar appropriated by the General Assembly, for a total statewide effect of nearly $1.8 billion.

Maryland appointed William Phillips, a Nobel laureate, in physics to its faculty during the spring. Phillips will establish a world-class atomic, molecular and optical physics group on campus. The Philip Merrill College of Journalism now has five Pulitzer Prize winners on its faculty. A sixth faculty member, Eugene Roberts, directed the Philadelphia Inquirer to multiple Pulitzer's as managing editor.

MORE, BETTER STUDENTS WANT TO GO TO MARYLAND

The University of Maryland has boasted its best freshman class ever for each of the last 10 years, and the entering freshmen for 2001 are no exception. The academic credentials - high school grades and SAT scores - are again the best ever. And more of those accepted by Maryland are now choosing to enroll here.

The average GPA for freshmen planning to enroll in fall 2001 is 3.72, compared with 3.0 in 1990. SAT scores of the middle 50 percent are 1180 to 1330, up from 980-1150 in 1990.



What is more remarkable this year is how the university's successes in establishing quality programs - academic and athletic - and cementing a major role in the community, have attracted more of the best students than ever. Of those who were admitted to Maryland this year, nearly 43 percent confirmed their plans to attend, compared with less than 40 percent the previous year.

In its survey of the colleges of choice of top graduates in Maryland high schools last year, the Washington Post found that more than half picked the University of Maryland. No other single school was even close.

WHY THERE'S NO BETTER PLACE

There is no place better to be than the University of Maryland. As university President C.D. Mote Jr. noted in a Baltimore Sun front-page story on March 28, "This place is clearly on a tear."

With top-ranked academic programs (60 in the top 25, according to U.S. News and World Report), an honors program that competes with the Ivy League for top students, a prize-winning faculty (topped by a Nobel and five Pulitzers, among others), a highly diverse population, and a beautiful 1,580-acre campus located between the cultural and population centers of Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's little wonder that more of Maryland's top high school graduates choose the University of Maryland over all other Maryland colleges, public and private, combined.

In the latest U.S. News and World Report rankings, Maryland was 24th nationally among all public universities. The colleges of engineering, education, computer, mathematical and physical sciences, and information sciences are all ranked in the top 25 nationally. So are many of the individual programs in those schools and others, including criminology, journalism, public relations, counseling and others. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has been ranked among the top business schools in the world by the Wall Street Journal and the Financial Times of London.

More than 40 percent of all entering freshmen at Maryland are now enrolled in high-achieving programs like the Honors Program, Honors Humanities, College Park Scholars, Gemstone and a growing roster of living-learning communities where students with common interests in such topics as civil society and entrepreneurship can live and study together. With their wide variety of subject areas and top faculty from throughout the university, these programs compete for students with the best public and private universities in the country.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world – National Archives II – moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

PRESIDENT C.D. MOTE JR.

When C.D. "Don" Mote Jr. become the 19th president of the University of Morylond on Sept. 1, 1998 he procloimed it a university "on the move." Three years loter, under his guidonce, Morylond continues to move – at on ever accelerating rote – on the field, in the classroom, in the community, and in the world.

The University af Marylond is the stote of Maryland's most important osset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

Fulfilling thot responsibility is a big job, but Mote is accustomed to that role. He spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he eorned all his degrees, taught engineering and eventually became vice chancellor for university relations before coming to Maryland.

One of Mote's first tosks here was to serve on a governor's task force to examine the funding and organization of the University System of Maryland. The tosk force recommended, and the General Assembly enacted into law, a reaffirmotion of the university's flogship status and o commitment to funding at levels comparable to the best public universities in the notion.

As president, Mote is committed to making thot osset even greater by creoting a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, continuing to emphasize the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's internal and externol connections, ond achieving distinction os on institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress in eoch of these areas can be meosured by the quality of its programs; the stature of its faculty; the tolent of its students; its partnerships with business; its impoct on the state's economy; its ability to apply discoveries to global, nationol ond regional problems; ond its warld-closs, stote-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the post decade, Maryland's programs hove been improving by leaps and bounds, ond when it entered the first decade of the 21st century, it had 60 programs ranked in the top 25 nationally by U.S. News ond World Report.

While the university's academic successes are across the board, it has emerged as o true powerhouse in business, computer science, eorth sciences, engineering, education and journalism. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has achieved top 10 rankings from such beacon publicotions as the Finonciol Times of London and the Woll Street Journol. Every department in the College of Education has programs ranked in the U.S. News' top 25, and the Counseling and Personnel Services Program has long been ranked tops in the nation.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Loureote in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. Nearly two dozen faculty are members of the national academies in their fields, the highest professional recognition attoinable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including politics, international affairs, social trends, economics, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the post 10 years, it has become a virtual cliché to onnounce that each year's new freshmon closs is the most talented ever. The overoge GPA of entering students improved from 3.00 to 3.72 from 1990 to 2000, while the average SAT score rose from 1173 to 1244 in the some period.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors ond other special progroms hos also skyrocketed in recent years. As many os 40 percent of oll new freshmen are now enrolled in such programs as Honors, Gemstone, College Park Scholars ond other living-learning communities thot bring together students with similor academic interests in o residential setting.

Business Partnerships

In order to fulfill its role as the state's most important asset, Mote has emphasized thot the university must be engaged with the business and government communities in substantial and meaningful woys. Under his leadership, Morylond has provided its technological expertise to help the state improve its business processes through o web portal and hos consulted with hundreds of Maryland businesses through its Technology Extension Program.

In the past yeor, the university also helped to attract Fujitsu Loboratories of Americo to open o research facility in College Park. Fujitsu, the third-largest communicotions company in the world, shares o building with the Joint Global Change Research Institute, o reseorch partnership between the university and the Pacific Northwest Notional Laboratory.

Research with Impact

Sponsored research funding has more thon doubled at the University of Maryland since 1990, adding significontly to the university's value os both an economic ond on intellectual resource. In FY 2001, the university received $250 million in research grants, much of it directed at projects that will directly improve our social, educational and economic well-being.

Recent highlights of research funding include more than $10 million from the Nationol Science Foundation to study o wide range of issues related to information technology, from hardware to sociological impacts of the Internet. NSF also funded two major teaching initiatives in the College of Education totaling more thon $20 million and taking the university's expertise directly into Marylond schools to improve math ond science instruction. Mote himself chaired an NSF-sponsored task force last year to study the feosibility of voting over the Internet.

World-Class Facilities

During Mote's second year in office, the university begon the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities.

Highlights of the construction activity on the campus include the brand-new Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, scheduled to open in 2002; new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering, extensive renovations to the Adele H. Stamp Student Union; and new parking structures.

Mote also has led the development of a new compus master plan thot aims at making the university a leader by exomple in the adoption of Smart Growth principles, ensuring that the campus retoins its renowned beouty ond has minimal impact on the surrounding environment.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees othletics as an integrol port of the university experience, not just a showcose to impress visitors and friends. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For exomple, all four of the teams thot ployed in last season's NCAA basketboll Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of Americon Universities, the organization thot comprises the leading research ond academic universities in North America.

"That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Stote leaders in recent years have recognized the wisdom of Mote's ossertion that the university is the state's greatest asset, and they have sought to sustain its success through significant budget increoses. Every year of Mote's presidency, the General Assembly has increased the university's operating budget by about 10 percent.

The private sector, too, has recognized the importance of supporting the university. Early in Mote's third year, Maryland easily surpassed its seven-year $350 million fundraising goal – 18 months early. Before the end of the sixth year of the Bold Vision • Bright Future Compoign, the university had raised about $400 million in gifts ranging from a few dollars to more than $25 million, to pay for scholarships, endowed professorships, new facilities and programs.

For the past 23 years he served as an assistant wrestling coach with the Terps under head coach John McHugh. Callahan was named the department's facilities coordinator in 1988 and was elevated to assistant athletics director in 1997.

As the key contact person on operations and facilities, Callahan manages the department's vast athletic complex, including Byrd Stadium and Cole Field House. In recent years, he played an instrumental role in three major building projects: the upper deck addition to Byrd Stadium, the construction of the Gossett Football Team House, and the completion of the James H. Kehoe Track and Field Facility and Ludwig Field. His game management responsibilities have included overseeing numerous NCAA lacrosse tournaments held in College Park.

His tenure at the university dates to his undergraduate days as a wrestler in the late 1960s, when he played an integral role in the Terps winning four consecutive ACC wrestling championships. Callahan was a two-time conference champion, winning individual titles in 1969 and '70. He was 22-1 as a junior, his only loss coming to NCAA and eventual Olympic champion Dan Gable of Iowa.

Callahan was a two-time qualifier to the U.S. Olympic Trials and final elimination camp. In both 1972 and '76, he finished fourth nationally in Greco-Roman at 149.5 pounds.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in Cole Field House. It features a study center that includes 24 desktop computers, private study cubicles, a tutoring center, classrooms, and individual offices for five professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator, a career counselor and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for three professional counselors and a 16-station desktop computer center.

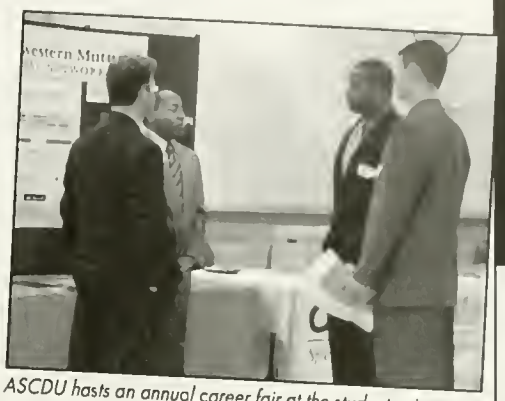
Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career & Internship Fair

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search, and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Student-Athlete Career & Internship Fair, in which student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career & Internship Fair recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.



ASCDU hosts an annual career fair at the student union.

Terp Choices

Personal growth is fundamental to all ASCDU programs and services. Terp Choices is a program that provides student-athletes the opportunity to identify their fundamental values, develop communication skills, and enhance decision making skills that will enable them to manage their personal health and well-being. Interactive presentations are given by trained student-educators who intend to illustrate to athletic team participants that an individual's choice may affect an entire team. This campus-wide program is partially funded by grants from the NCAA and ACC.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of a representative from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area, and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success Program (C.H.A.M.P.S.) and the NCAA LIFE SKILLS Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically, and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to returning its former athletes for degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student is provided with a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.

ASCDU Football Staff

Working closely with the football coaching staff is associate ASCDU director Heather Arianna, who coordinates the academic support services provided to Terrapin football student-athletes. Arianna, who is in her seventh year at Maryland, received her bachelor's degree from Syracuse University in 1993 and a master's degree in college student personnel services from the University of Louisville in 1994.

Arianna is assisted by program assistant Dahlia Levin. Levin joined the ASCDU staff on a full-time basis in 2000 after previously serving as an assistant, tutor and mentor in the athletic department since 1997. She is a co-founder of the Goff Memorial Scholarship Fund at the University of Maryland. A 1999 graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in sociology, Levin was a member of the Dean's List each of her semesters in addition to being a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society.

Medical STAFF

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Orthopedic surgeon Leigh Ann Curl, M.D., serves as the head team physician. Dr. Curl is part of the growing University Sports Medicine program of the University of Maryland Medical Center, which also provides medical care for the Baltimore Ravens of the NFL, UMBC, Coppin State University and 14 high schools.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. Dr. Curl is an excellent physician who understands college athletics. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

Leigh Ann CURL, M.D.

Head Team Physician

Leigh Ann Curl, a former All-American basketball player at the University of Connecticut and a 1988 inductee into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame, is in her fifth year as Maryland's head team physician. Dr. Curl graduated summa cum laude from the University of Connecticut in 1985 and was her class valedictorian. She was a four-year starter on the women's basketball team, serving two years as team captain, and became the third women's basketball player in school history to score 1,000 points. She finished her career among the all-time leaders in points and rebounds at UConn. A two-time GTE Academic All-American, Curl also was a two-time Big East Conference Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

During her career at Maryland, Worth has worked directly with five teams that have captured national championships – four in women's lacrosse and one in field hockey. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball program when it won eight ACC titles and advanced to three NCAA Final Fours.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

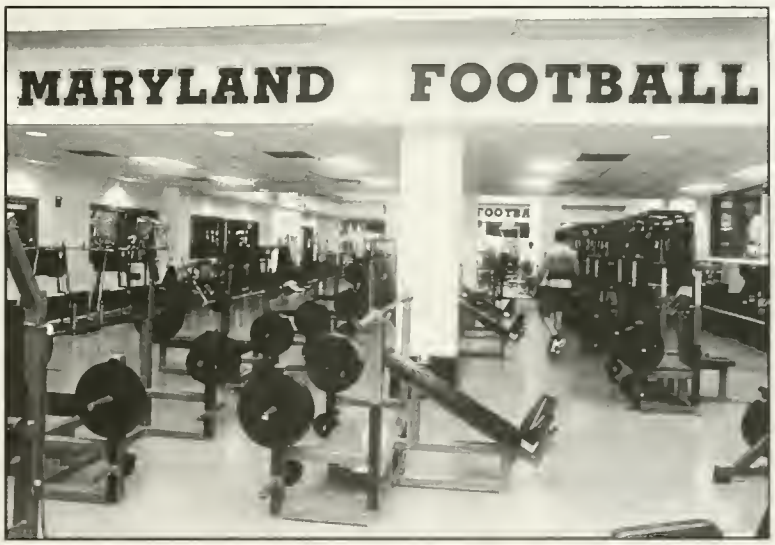
In today's highly competitive world of collegiate football, the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

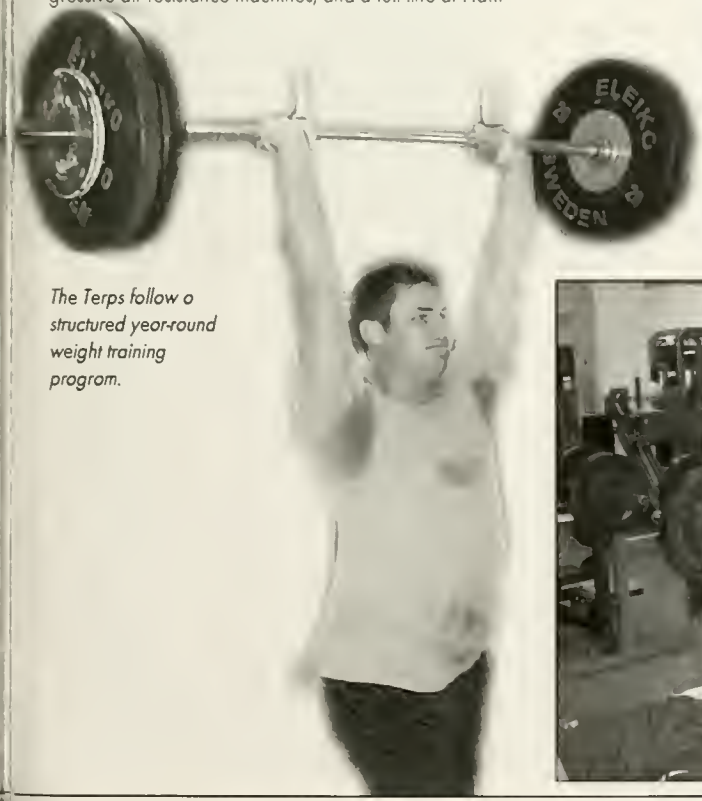
At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention to the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the country. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

Maryland football players train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained power rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Eleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

A meaningful goal of every Terrapin football player is achievement of the prestigious "Iron Terp" award, which is recognized twice a year to those team members who achieve extremely challenging strength goals, based on body weight. It is a great honor and matter of pride to earn an "Iron Terp" award, and the Terps must "pay the toll" to accomplish this.





The Terps follow a structured year-round weight training program.

Members of the Maryland football team enjoy first-class athletic facilities, including the Terps' well-equipped weight room in the Gossett Football Team House.

TERRAPIN CLUB

Championships Begin With Scholarships

The Terrapin Club is composed of alumni, friends and fans of University of Maryland athletics. Your Terrapin Club contribution provides annual athletic scholarship support to our student-athletes. As a Terrapin Club member, you will enjoy the camaraderie and fellowship unique to this organization. Supporting the Club is a great way to stay connected with the University of Maryland, the state's flagship institution. Most importantly, you will feel the pride and satisfaction in providing a University of Maryland student-athlete with a quality education.

Your donation is vital. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant university funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. We are challenged to fund the 269 full scholarships presently offered and, in the future, to fund the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for our 25 sports. We cannot reach this goal without your participation.

"As a scholarship athlete, I was provided with a platform of opportunities ... a chance to make a difference ... Maryland athletics gave me that and more..."

– Renaldo Nehemiah, Track '81
Member, U.S. Track and Field Hall of Fame
Terrapin Club Board of Directors

"Receiving a scholarship was, in itself, an honor; but more important, it allowed me to spend valuable time participating in internships that prepared me for my career, instead of working my way through school. That scholarship is still paying dividends, years after my time in College Park."

– Bannie Bernstein, Gymnastics '92

MAJOR GIFTS FUND-RAISING

As we prepare to compete in the 21st century, Maryland athletics must ensure that our program is able to remain competitive by recruiting high caliber players and maintaining and attracting loyal fans. To do so, as part of Bold Vision • Bright Future: The Campaign for the University of Maryland, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has entered into a historic effort to increase private financial support for the construction and renovation of athletic facilities.

Cheryl
HARRISON
Director, Development for Major Gifts

At the center of the plan for our future is a new, state-of-the-art arena and home for Maryland Athletics, the Comcast Center (rendering at right). The Building Partners Campaign is the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' effort to raise $20 million in outright gifts toward the construction of the Comcast Center. Quality facilities attract outstanding student-athletes, great crowds and a tremendous amount of energy and excitement. The competition site for men's and women's basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics, Comcast Center will be the centerpiece of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Maryland. Our venue will again be the absolute best in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

By participating in the Building Partners Campaign, athletic benefactors have a chance to make a historic impact on the future of the University of Maryland and its athletics program. The Building Partners Campaign offers donors a unique opportunity to permanently link their names to the tradition of Terrapin athletics. Donors who make contributions of $25,000 to $1 million or more are entitled to permanent seat assignments in Comcast Center, in recognition of the substantial investment they have made in Maryland Athletics with their Building Partners Campaign contributions.

To obtain additional information on supporting the Building Partners Campaign, contact Cheryl Harrison or Dick Corrigan at 301-314-7020 or toll free at 800-653-7667 or visit our website at www.umd.edu/terrapinclub.

MARYLAND EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

The primary mission of the Maryland Educational Foundation (MEF) is to provide scholarship endowment funds in support of the athletic department's annual athletic scholarship expenses. By supporting talented, deserving student-athletes, donors ensure that our legacy of excellence will continue and grow. For more than 50 years, the MEF has provided financial support for Maryland athletics and is an important part of the department's gift-giving program. The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of permanently funding many of the university's scholarships now being awarded.

Dick
CORRIGAN
Director, Major Gifts

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used (in part or whole) for scholarships. The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. An endowment gift is truly a significant investment in the future of Maryland athletics. Contact Dick Corrigan or Cheryl Harrison at 301-314-7020 if you would like more information.

THE M CLUB "Athletes Helping Athletes" SM

A 78-year Tradition of "Athletes Helping Athletes"

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,200 former Maryland varsity athletes.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the 25 varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund and support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts. Members receive the monthly athletic department publication (TerpTalk) for information about the current teams and news about your former teammates.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization. Stay involved with Maryland athletics.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Datti Warren at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.umd-mclub.org. Remember the M Club, "Athletes Helping Athletes."

The Scotti brothers, Ben and Tony, played football at Maryland in the late 1950s.

BYRD STADIUM home of the terps

Byrd Stadium, which celebrated its 50 birthday during the 2000 season, has been home to national championship football and men's and women's lacrosse teams, and to more than 50 ACC track and field champions. It hosted the Queen of England at a football game, and was the stage where the greatest high hurdler in history, Renaldo Nehemiah, performed his amazing feats. It also has been a regular site for the NCAA men's lacrosse Final Four, where several attendance records have been shattered.

Byrd Stadium – it's the first-class home of the Maryland Terrapins.

Situated at the foot of the campus' North Hill, the stadium is named for Dr. H.C. Byrd, a multi-sport athlete as an undergraduate who later became head football coach and eventually served as university president. His vision gave University of Maryland preeminence among Eastern campus sports facilities for decades and the impetus for the Terrapins to win more ACC championships than any league school.

Since opening on Sept. 30, 1950, when Maryland defeated Navy 35-21 in the dedication game before a school-record crowd of 43,386 fans, Byrd has undergone a number of major facelifts, three of which occurred in the 1990s and have resulted in its present form. The first came shortly after the 1990 home season, when the Tyser Tower press box – a fantastic five-tier, 90-foot high, 160-foot long structure – was built on the stadium's south rim. Tyser Tower accommodates 300 exterior luxury seats, a hospitality suite with theater-style seating, a spacious working press area, television and radio booths, and a photo deck.

In 1991, construction was completed on a beautiful new football complex – since named the Gossett Football Team House – just beyond the east end zone. This $7 million building houses football coaching offices and meeting areas, academic computer lab, locker rooms, weight facility, and a medical support area. A bronze Terrapin sits in front of the team house, its installation coming in 1992 as part of the celebration of the 100th year of football at the university. Following the 1994 campaign, Byrd's seating capacity increased by more than 12,000 to its current level of 48,055 when a massive upper deck was added on the stadium's north side. The cost for the latest renovation exceeded $45 million.

The refurbishing of Byrd included new restrooms, bleachers and the stadium's first formal entranceway off of Field House Drive. The Gossett Football Team House, Tyser Tower, concession stands, restrooms and stadium portals, designed by H.O.K. Architects of Kansas City, are enclosed in sand-molded brick that matches the Williamsburg-style brick used on most of Maryland's 335 buildings. The brick gives the contemporary architecture a timeless veneer and unity with the university's traditional Georgian look.

Byrd Highlights

1950 Byrd Stadium is constructed at a cost of $1 million. The original capacity was 34,680, but could be boosted to more than 50,000 with temporary bleachers around the rim of the stadium.

1953 Byrd is home to the national champion Terrapin football team.

1955 In a game billed as the "Best of the East" vs. the "Best of the West," Maryland defeated No. 1-ranked UCLA 7-0. Historians called that game one of the greatest of the decade.

1957 Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip visited while former Terp head coach Jim Tatum returned to the scene of his greatest coaching triumphs. The Terps went on to upset North Carolina in what then head coach Tommy Mont later called his finest moment as coach.

1974 The legendary Bear Bryant returned to College Park with his third-ranked Alabama Crimson Tide on Sept. 14. Temporary bleachers were installed for only the second time in stadium history to accommodate 54,412 fans, then the largest crowd ever at Byrd. Later in the season, on Oct. 11, the then second-largest crowd (49,647) in Byrd history watched the 15th-ranked Terps defeat 17th-ranked NC State 20-10.

1975 The Byrd Stadium attendance record of 58,973 was set when 14th-ranked Maryland hosted ninth-ranked Penn State.

1983 Byrd Stadium played host to its second-largest crowd, 54,715, as the 17th-ranked Terps met No. 20 West Virginia.

1985 The Terps, ranked No. 1 in the preseason by Sport magazine, set the all-time school home attendance record, averaging 49,385 for five home games.

1990 Construction began following the last home football game of the season on what was the first major athletic construction on campus in 35 years. The Byrd Stadium refurbishment was the first of its kind to be done without the supervision of Curley Byrd.

1994 Following the end of the football season, renovations continued with the addition of an upper deck.

1995 Seating capacity is 48,055 – an increase of 12,000 – following the completion of the upper deck on the stadium's north side. As needed, bleachers can increase the seating capacity to 62,000.

GOSSETT FOOTBALL TEAM HOUSE

Whether they are taking advantage of the academic computer lab, spacious weight room, or state-of-the-art sports medicine area, football players at the University of Maryland are provided the finest in facilities at the Gossett Football Team House.

Located at the east end of Byrd Stadium, the 46,000-square foot building is an all-purpose complex that combines football function with imaginative design. Truly the "home" of the football Terps, the $7 million Gossett Football Team House features a first-class locker room, coaching offices, multiple meeting rooms, a strength and conditioning center, computer lab, medical facilities, audio-visual center, and equipment areas. It was designed by the same firm (H.O.K. of Kansas City) that has performed the architectural work on some of America's premier collegiate and professional sports facilities.

Upon entering the main doors, student-athletes and visitors alike are greeted by an impressive reception area highlighting some of the great players and great moments in Maryland's storied football history. Nearby are coaching offices that overlook Byrd Stadium through oversized windows, as well as multiple meeting areas and conference rooms. A Terrapin Terrace, which surrounds the second-floor offices, is available for outdoor functions.

On the lower level, student-athletes make their strength and conditioning home in the 7,000-square-foot strength center under skylights that reveal more than 12 tons of workout machinery. The spacious dressing area features a double locker and footlocker for every player. The layout of the ground floor allows easy access to the many amenities the building has to offer. The locker rooms, which house a sauna and shower facilities, are less than 100 feet away from the second-floor conference areas. The nine conference areas are interconnecting and feature the latest in audio-visual equipment, some of which is available in only a handful of NCAA football programs.

As an integral part of the Byrd Stadium complex, the Gossett Football Team House is situated in the middle of campus and is within walking distance of dorms and dining areas. Both the practice fields and Byrd Stadium field are immediately outside the locker room door, or nearby. The steps leading down to the complex's front door face Cole Field House and the home of Maryland's outstanding academic support and career development unit.

Each phase of the building – from the 3,500 square foot medical and hydrotherapy rooms, to strength center, to office suites – was designed to teach and support football excellence.

The building is named for Barry and Mary Gossett, long-time Terrapin supporters who have given generously to the athletic and academic programs at the University of Maryland.

The Maryland football locker room is very spacious and features more than 120 locker stalls.

A high-tech video lab is one of the many amenities of the Gossett Football Team House.

The Gossett Football Team House features multiple rooms for team and position meetings.

A spacious weight room is located on the lower level.

TERPS ON RADIO

All of Maryland's games are heard live on the Maryland Terrapins' radio network, which boasts one of the broadest coverage areas in collegiate sports. The production and sales of the broadcasts are being overseen for the seventh year by one of the largest and most aggressive sports marketing groups in the country, Learfield Sports of Jefferson City, Mo.

Maryland's broadcasts can be accessed on the World Wide Web via the Terps' official athletic web site, www.umterps.com.

Johnny Holliday - Play-by-Play

Johnny Holliday, now in his 23rd year as "Voice of the Terps," is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the country. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland football and basketball teams, Holliday also hosts the Ralph Friedgen and Gary Williams television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he also handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletic department, ranging from banquets to golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of the 2000 and 1996 Summer Olympics and the Winter and Summer Olympics in 1984, 1988, and 1994. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters, and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disc jockey during his rock 'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coaches' television shows on Comcast SportsNet, the region's premier sports channel. He also does special events for CSN that include baseball, tennis, basketball and track and field. He is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey. He is a member of the Rock 'N Roll Hall of Fame.

In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Washingtonian magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons.

In 1998, he was honored by the Greater Washington, D.C. Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland M Club Distinguished Citizen Award. He earned the Touchdown Club Award for outstanding achievement in sports broadcasting in 1991, and was the recipient of the Maryland basketball service award in 1999. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa and the university's Alumni Association.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who recently graduated from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia.

Jonathan Claiborne - Color Analyst

Former Terrapin standout Jonathan Claiborne is in his second season as the color analyst on Maryland's radio broadcast team. Claiborne, who lettered from 1975-77 as a safety, is the son of former Terp head coach Jerry Claiborne, who was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1999 after a 28-year career as head coach at Virginia Tech, Maryland and Kentucky.

Originally a walk-on at Maryland in the mid-'70s, Jonathan Claiborne eventually worked his way into a first-string safety position and earned a scholarship. He was a two-year starter and played on three bowl teams. The Terps were 28-7-1 during his varsity playing career.

Claiborne, who is now a practicing attorney in the Baltimore area for the firm Whiteford, Taylor and Preston, excelled on and off the field while playing with the Terrapins. He was a two-time All-ACC Academic selection and a 1977 CoSIDA Academic All-American. He also was the recipient of a NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in addition to earning a fellowship from the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Claiborne earned a double degree at Maryland (history and accounting) and posted a cumulative GPA of 3.57. He was a two-time winner of the George C. Cook Award (given to the Terp varsity football player with the highest grade point average) and also won the Talbot T. Speer Award for leadership, scholarship and athletic ability.

Jonathan Claiborne previously spent four years as a color analyst on Towson Tiger football radio broadcasts.

Tim Strachan - Sidelines

Former DeMatha High standout Tim Strachan is in his sixth season as the sideline reporter on Maryland's football broadcasts. Strachan, a 1999 graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in communications, was a student assistant coach with the Terps from 1996-99.

Strachan, who was paralyzed in a swimming accident before his senior year of high school, launched T13 Charities – A Foundation for Spinal Cord Injuries as a way to benefit others with spinal cord injuries.

He is a 1994 graduate of DeMatha High School where he was rated among the nation's top prep quarterbacks prior to his injury. A native of Kensington, Md., he was named the 1999 Washingtonian of the Year by Washingtonian magazine.

Credentials

Requests for media and photo credentials should be faxed or mailed on official letterhead to the University of Maryland Media Relations Office (FAX: 301-314-9094) at least one week prior to the event. Accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Requests are accepted from sports editors and sports directors only. When time permits, working credentials will be mailed. When this is not possible, they will be left at the Press Will Call entrance (Gate H) at Byrd Stadium.

E-mail Service

Football releases can be obtained electronically by contacting Greg Creese at gcreese@wam.umd.edu List TERP NEWS in the subject heading, and include the name of your media outlet and phone number in your message. (This is a media service only).

Internet Guidelines

The acceptance of media credentials is an acknowledgement of the University of Maryland's rights to the game and play-by-play coverage and an outlet's agreement to abide by any restrictions the University of Maryland may place on real-time play-by-play coverage and use of comprehensive game statistics. Failure to abide by these restrictions implemented by the University of Maryland may result in revocation of press credentials. The University of Maryland reserves the right to grant approval for distribution of real time play-by-play, game-related statistics and information through the Internet ("real time" is defined as any online media providing live continual play-by-play coverage, in-game statistics, digital photographs, or audio or video of an event).

Parking

Game day press parking is located in the Union Lane Garage which is adjacent to Cole Field House and along Field House Drive. The parking garage is best accessed from the Stadium Drive entrance to campus. Access is via pass only and is available on a limited basis.

Photography Regulations

Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment. Photographers should obtain an armband from the media relations assistant on the field below Section 28 to gain admittance to the field. Under NCAA and ACC rules, photographers are not allowed between the 25-yard lines and must remain outside of the restraining lines surrounding the playing field.

Player Interviews

All player interviews must be arranged through Greg Creese or Dave Haglund. Players have been instructed not to participate in interviews unless they have been arranged through the Media Relations Office. Interviews will be conducted Monday through the start of practice on Thursday. No interviews will be allowed on Sunday or Friday. Player phone numbers will not be released, and members of the media are asked not to attempt to contact student-athletes or relatives on the telephone or via e-mail. Players are not available for live call-in radio shows.

Postgame Interviews

Head coach Ralph Friedgen and selected players will be brought to the team meeting room on the second floor of the Gossett Football Team House for postgame interviews following home games. The team room is accessed through the front door of the complex, located one level above the playing field. Please enter the glass doors and follow the hallway to the team room on the right. Interviews with the visiting team coach and players will be coordinated by the opponent SID staff. The interview area for the opponent coach is in the weight room of the Varsity Team House, located outside of the stadium on the opposite side of the field from the Tyser Tower Press Box. The Terps will follow similar guidelines for coach and player interviews for road games.

Practice Coverage

Practices are generally open to local media outlets only. However, media wishing to attend practice should contact the Media Relations Office in advance. All members of the media are asked to view practice from the sloped portion of the field (along Stadium Drive). Once the team goes into pads in the fall, TV B-roll and still photographers will be allowed to shoot warm-ups, stretching drills and the first two periods of practice. Team meetings before, during and after practice are private. Media are requested to remain on the sloped portion of the field until signaled by a member of the media relations staff to come onto the practice field. Practices generally begin at 3:45 p.m. and conclude at 6 p.m. The team does not practice on Sunday during the season.

Ralph Friedgen Interviews

Coach Friedgen will be available to the media at his weekly Tuesday media luncheons, which begin at 1 p.m. on the second floor of the Tyser Tower Press Box. Coach Friedgen will also be available on the weekly ACC Teleconference (913-981-5507) held each Wednesday at 11.40 a.m. ET.
